U.S. Subs Sink 10 Jap Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy announced this afternoon that U.S. submarines have sunk 10 Japanese merchant vessels and damaged four in operations in the Pacific.

Goering in Rome

LONDON (CP) — A Moscow radio broadcast recorded by the Soviet monitor here tonight said a Tass news agency dispatch from Geneva reported Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering was believed to be in Rome.

Kiel Hit Again

LONDON (CP) — United States heavy bombers raided Kiel today and 10 planes failed to return, United States headquarters announced tonight.

Bomb Hongkong

NEW YORK (AP) — Tokyo radio reported in a broadcast that 16 U.S. planes raided Hongkong today, dropping 20 bombs which caused "slight damage." U.S. planes also raided Hongkong two days ago, a raid first reported by the Japanese.

Steel Strike Ends

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Striking employees of the Hamilton Bridge Works, members of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) Union, voted today to return to work under provisions of a memorandum of understanding with the management. C.I.O. officials said the strike ended officially at noon. It had continued for 12 weeks.

Soviets Advance 6 Miles On Orel

LONDON (CP) — Red Army troops have scored advances of up to six miles and captured 40 additional localities to tighten the pincers on the German defenders of Orel, a Moscow communique recorded by the Soviet monitor here said tonight.

Strong artillery fire and intensive reconnaissance manoeuvres were reported on the Leningrad front. The communique said 38 German tanks were disabled or destroyed on all fronts Wednesday and that 63 German aircraft were shot down by Soviet fighters and anti-aircraft fire.

Nazi Morale Hit

STOCKHOLM (AP) — An informant who arrived here from Berlin said today some German officers were openly predicting Italy would be out of the war before the end of the first week of August.

This source, who would not permit the use of his name, said the collapse of Mussolini and Fascism had a "shattering" effect on the spirits of the German people.

Goebbels Upset

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Hours before the Nazi press and radio had released the news, Berliners Monday gathered in excited knots everywhere to discuss the lightning dissolution of Mussolini's regime, informants from Berlin said here today.

The word obviously was spread by those who had listened to the London radio and other foreign radio stations. The news was so generally known that Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels ordered a press blast at "unpatriotic" Germans.

Fanny Bay Fire Sweeps 240 Acres

NANAIMO (CP) — Fire at the Fanny Bay operations of Victoria Lumber Company, four miles from the Gulf of Georgia, has burned over some 240 acres since Sunday, forest supervisor Charles Holmes reported today on his return from the scene. Pumps are being used effectively by the crews. Five other fires on the east coast of island have received attention.

Bag 2 U-Boats

LONDON (AP) — Two submarines were destroyed in the north Atlantic within nine hours by an escort of British naval sloops, it was announced today.

Canadians Rout Germans, Take Agira End of Sicily Battle Predicted

'GET 'EM UP—AND GET OUT!'—Hands upraised in surrender and one of them waving a white flag, Axis troops stumble over masses of debris as Allied soldiers flush them out of a strong point, blasted and captured by Allied troops near Enna, Sicily. (Official British Photo via OWI Radio).

Eastern Canadians Mop Up Captured Town; Kill Snipers

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH CANADIAN FORCES IN SICILY (Delayed CP)—Eastern Canada infantry has driven the Germans out of the mountain stronghold of Leonforte, and the battered town is completely in Canadian hands.

In a two-day battle for the town and nearby cliffs, Canadian infantry attacks were finally successful late Tuesday when the last snipers were cornered in a house and fighting simmered out.

(In Washington today, it was stated the Canadians, continuing their drive, had also taken Agira, about 12 miles east of Leonforte).

The Germans withdrew to high ground north of the town, where it appeared they were going to try to make a determined defensive stand.

MADE STEEP CLIMB

As clearer information comes from the front, an Ontario regiment is being lauded for an heroic assault up a cliffside two nights ago and a smash into Assoro.

(Assoro is almost at the outskirts of Leonforte. This was the first reference to its capture by Canadian troops.)

Exploits of the Royal Canadian Engineers in rebuilding a blown bridge at night outside Leonforte under direct machine gun and mortar fire was another highlight of the central front operations.

I believe there is the equivalent of 2½ divisions of German troops opposing the 8th Army and the Americans on strong defensive lines.

ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER

A professional diplomat and ambassador to Turkey, Raffaele Guariglia has been appointed Foreign Minister in the new regime in Italy. He was reported returning to Rome from Ankara, where it was believed he may have put out feelers for a negotiated peace.

Members of the army garrison of Milan arrived with orders from Marshal Badoglio to obtain the surrender of the defenders.

Before he could act, however, the mob, encouraged by the presence of soldiers, rushed the building, broke in and killed the Fascists, the Italian travelers reported.

Mayhew Expects Additions To Civilian Hospitals Here

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., on his return to Victoria today from Ottawa, said, "I most certainly expect an addition to Royal Jubilee Hospital and possibly to St. Joseph's Hospital."

Jubilee Hospital has been asked to submit figures to the national hospital commission, Mr. Mayhew said.

Asked what had happened to the navy's plans for a big service hospital at Royal Roads, Mr. Mayhew said, "I think this has been pretty well abandoned."

The Victoria member pressed before the commission and on the floor of the Commons that additions be made to Victoria's two civilian hospitals, so that they could care for returned men and in the future be prepared to handle peacetime cases.

The general hospital situation in Greater Victoria, Mr. Mayhew said, "now looks very favorable—it looks very much as if we are on the road to having hospitals in this area consolidated."

Wherever similar conditions exist in Canada—where the military is building its own hospitals in some areas where there are civilian hospitals—Mr. Mayhew said he has received support, mentioning Vancouver, Calgary and Winnipeg.

Fascist Spokesman Gayda Among Dead In Italian Debacle

MADRID (AP) — Virginio Gayda, former editor of the Giornale d'Italia and one of the chief spokesmen of Fascism, was one of those killed in Italy during anti-Fascist "revenge hunts" that began shortly after the downfall of Benito Mussolini, say reports received here from Italy.

(A BBC report, recorded by United States government monitors, said Gayda was arrested and charged with high treason. The broadcast, which quoted a Berne report, said Roberto Farinacci, former secretary-general of the Fascist Party, and Mario Appelius, a Rome radio commentator, also had been arrested. Other editors reported in custody were Giovanni Ansaldo of Count Ciano's Il Telegrafo di Leghorn and the editors of Il Popolo di Roma and La Stampa.)

OUT OF BACK DOOR

Enemies of Roberto Farinacci made a determined hunt for him, but the former Fascist Party secretary-general, who lived in a Rome hotel, slipped out a back door while a mob stormed into the building past his guards, these reports said.

Italians reaching Spain said anti-Fascist demonstrations which surged around the offices of the newspaper Il Popolo d'Italia in Milan following Mussolini's fall had developed into a pitched battle.

A number of Fascist district leaders had gone to the newspaper offices to get news from Rome, they said, and after the announcement of Mussolini's resignation a mob formed quickly before the building.

GRENADES THROWN

As the mob tried to break through the doors and hurled paving stones through the windows, Fascists inside the building tossed hand grenades at the mob.

Soldiers were said to have joined the attackers and sniped at the defenders until the com-

Slaughter of Malahat Deplored

Duncan Chamber of Commerce's "Save the Malahat" campaign marked time today, pending the return to Victoria of key cabinet ministers, including Premier John Hart and Lands Minister A. Wells Gray.

Meanwhile support from many sides swung behind the Duncan body of businessmen, who claim the wild, natural and rugged beauty of the Malahat Highway is being denuded.

W. J. Clark, president of Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, said "naturally we are very interested in the Malahat—it has already been logged off in spots and some of its beauty spoiled—we don't want any repetition."

Mr. Clark said the only solution he can see is a "trade," sponsored by the government.

The public is considerably encouraged by Premier Hart's recent announcement that the whole logging industry in B.C. will shortly be thoroughly investigated.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. for Victoria, said today "I think it is absolutely iniquitous that we do not look after the Malahat—of course, we should save the Malahat, we have so long been doing stupid things in ruining our scenic assets and sacrificing our beauty spots and forgetting the long-range view."

Logging on the Malahat, Mayor McGavin said, "is a shame—it shouldn't be allowed—I think logging there should be stopped—these trees should be preserved—the whole thing is wrong."

A prominent Cobble Hill resident, who drove over the Malahat today, said he viewed the latest devastation, adding "they are ruining great portions of the finest stands of timber on the whole Malahat, close to the road. This only emphasizes the necessity for reviewing our whole timber policy, in the light of scenic values and the future of the tourist trade. When these areas of timber were taken up, tourist values were not considered. The great difficulty is that without a settled policy the public only becomes interested after devastation has commenced."

Brauchitsch Jailed; Says Tass Report

LONDON (CP) — Reuters news agency said a Tass dispatch received in Stockholm today reported Field Marshal-General Walter von Brauchitsch, former commander-in-chief of the German army, had been confined in a fortress by the Nazi government.

(Von Brauchitsch frequently has been reported at odds with Hitler. He was reported in 1941 to have been fired from the supreme German command, but advice received last summer said he had been restored. Last December he was reported to be the leader of a military clique bent on "isolating" Hitler and making peace with the Allies.)

1,100 Tons of Bombs

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP) — More than 1,100 tons of bombs were dropped on military targets near Rome in the historic raid of July 19, in which more than 500 U.S. bombers and 200 fighters participated, it was disclosed today.

Nearly half the weight was concentrated on the Littorio and San Lorenzo railroad yards, while another quarter hit the Ciampino airfield, the announcement said. Five raiding planes were lost.

PUSHING AXIS TOWARD THAT LAST DITCH—Holding five-sixths of Sicily, Allied forces forged ahead—some swiftly, some slowly—but all crowding remaining Axis forces into the Catania-Messina "coffin corner" where they are expected to make their last ditch stand.

Uprisings May Force Badoglio To Ask Allies for Early Peace

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP) — Reports of revolts spreading through Italy suggested today the possibility that the country's destiny may be wrenched from the hands of Premier Pietro Badoglio and that he may be compelled to sue for an immediate peace.

While Badoglio's position in the confused situation was not entirely clear, there were indications he might be calling for time in an attempt to get German troops out of southern Italy and get Italian forces back from the Balkans before appealing to the Allies for an armistice.

CLASHES WITH GERMANS

There have been repeated reports from European listening posts that Italian garrisons have been moving out of the Balkan countries and dispatches from Madrid told of an outbreak of fighting in northern Italy between German and Italian troops, who apparently were trying to prevent the Nazis from taking over the Po River defence line.

Whatever the significance of these reports there seemed no doubt that Badoglio was facing a critical situation, though Rome radio continued to insist it was the new government's intention to continue the war.

The London press, meanwhile, welcomed the news of the formal dissolution of the Fascist Party, but asserted it would not alter the Allied attitude.

"Fascism may have been proclaimed dead, but the system cannot be killed by the mere pulling down of emblems," said the Daily Mail.

The Times emphasized that "the Allied peoples should remember that Fascism was brought down not by Badoglio but by the overwhelming impact of Allied arms."

Croats, Slovenes Demonstrating

BERNE (AP) — Italian and German troops were reported rushed today to Fiume and Trieste, where Croats and Slovenes were demonstrating for separation of the Istrian peninsula from Italy, and the situation in other eastern sections of the kingdom was described as tense. Swiss newspaper dispatches told of the crisis in Istria, soil which Italy annexed from Austria-Hungary after the last war. It juts into the Adriatic sea between Italy and the Croatian coast.

The Berliner Tagblatt said Croats and Slovenes, who number 600,000 on the peninsula, were demanding the inclusion of Istria in a south Slav state. Additional clashes between Fascists and anti-Fascists were reported as Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio struggled to maintain order and save the country from chaos.

News of an insurrection in Milan was partly blacked out today by Premier Badoglio's military censorship. However a dispatch from Chiasso, Switzerland, said strikes in the Milan industrial region had assumed important proportions, with Communists attacking the monarchy.

Walls in northern Italy—despite Badoglio's restriction of placarding and slogans—were reported bearing the words "Mussolini is liquidated—now the war must be liquidated. Long live the social republic!"

(A BBC broadcast recorded by CBS said today the families of numerous Fascist officials were reported to have arrived by plane in Berlin.)

Reports reaching the Swiss border said hundreds of persons had been killed in widespread riots and that tension was growing hourly.

Anti-Fascist outbreaks, country-wide demonstrations for peace, strikes in Italy's most important war and industrial factories, combined with increasing political agitation, apparently have brought the country to the verge of incipient civil war.

The crisis in Italy's internal affairs has reached the stage where even a spokesman for the Berlin foreign office reportedly admitted the probability of a new government in Rome before the end of the week. Berlin political circles went so far as to mention Crown Prince Umberto as a rallying point around whom a new regime would be set up.

SCENES IN GENOA, TURIN

Milan, Turin and Genoa, according to information reaching Berne, were centres of peace demonstrations, open fighting and political revolts. In all three of these industrial cities gangs of Fascist militia were reported resisting regular army units striving to maintain order and enforce Premier Badoglio's decree abolishing the Fascist Party. Significant also was the suppression, after two days of free expression, of republican newspapers which had been under the Fascist ban for 20 years.

Badoglio, in response to petitions asking assurances that liberal and democratic political ideals would prevail from now on, was reported to have promised an early declaration of a "positive nature."

Official Italian circles, according to other reports reaching here, have made it known that Badoglio hopes in accordance with his discussions with Nazi leaders, to fight a "blowing down" action against the Allies in Sicily, in order to give the Axis time to extricate itself from the precarious situation created by Mussolini's abrupt removal from power.

Forces Drive On After Capture Of Leonforte

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canadian troops in Sicily have taken Agira, Robert Patterson, acting United States War Secretary, announced today. Agira is about 12 miles east of Leonforte, capture of which by the Canadian 1st Division was announced today by Allied headquarters in North Africa.

Patterson said also that the Americans, operating to the north of the Canadians in their joint drive northeastward toward the German Mount Etna line, have taken Nicosia.

(A German propaganda agency report, heard in London, said the Germans had withdrawn from Nicosia.)

The conquest of Sicily probably will be complete in a few days, Patterson said, despite the strong resistance of German troops in the northeastern part of the island and evidence that they have been reinforced recently.

(From Berne—The Swiss Telegraphic Agency said today it had received a dispatch from Chiasso stating it had been "learned from Rome that the Badoglio government is examining the conditions of peace sent by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.")

(The agency appended an editorial note that it "published the dispatch with reserve.") Patterson said the ouster of Mussolini "was a political development, and its military significance is not yet clear."

"So far as we know," he said at a press conference, "no formal or informal overtures looking to peace have been made to the Allies by the new Italian regime."

Allies Will Fight Till Italy Yields

"Until there is an offer of surrender, you may be sure the Allies will continue to press the war on Italy with all the vigor of which we are capable. There is no doubt, I think, that that might accelerate their speed in trying to get out of the war."

There has been no evidence of diminishing resistance by the Axis in northeastern Sicily, where the enemy appears to have more than three German mobile divisions and at least as many Italian divisions. Patterson said the British, Canadian, French and United States troops now control four-fifths of the island.

"It is clear," he said, "that the battle for Sicily has entered its final phase, and the conquest of that island ought not to be more than a matter of days."

Canadian columns have smashed their way into Leonforte, eight miles northeast of Enna, in fierce fighting while the American 7th Army, pounding eastward along the coast from Palermo, captured the towns of Pollina, Castelbuono and Gangi, the Allies announced today.

With the occupation of Pollina, representing a one-day advance of about eight miles from the port of Cefalu, which was taken the previous day, the American armored spearhead had reached a point 75 miles from Messina.

Castelbuono and Gangi are inland towns, on an approximate line between Pollina and Leonforte, and announcement of their fall disclosed that the American-Canadian eastward push was a co-ordinated, dovetailing advance that the enemy apparently was powerless to stop.

Today's brief Allied communique telling of the "steady progress" of this drive made no mention of the fighting around Catania, southern anchor of the Axis Mount Etna defence line, where the British 8th Army has been feeling out the enemy's stubborn defence for nearly a week.

The right wing of the American onrush over a 40-mile front was about 12 miles from Leonforte, from which the Canadians were driving forward.

Beating back Elite regiments of the German 15th armored division, the Canadians found Nazi dead piled in heaps on the outskirts of one unnamed city, an official report said.

Hart in Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Three possible routes for a $6,000,000 highway linking the main road networks of British Columbia with the Alaska Highway are being surveyed, Premier John Hart of British Columbia said in an interview here Wednesday.

Mr. Hart, accompanied by E. H. Bridgman, B.C. deputy minister of municipal affairs, left for Dawson Creek and Fort Nelson, B.C. He will also visit Hudson Hope.

Questioned regarding construction of a railroad from Prince George, B.C. to Skagway, Alaska, Mr. Hart said, "It's still being talked about."

Worries Japanese

NEW YORK (AP)—The Tokyo radio told the Japanese people today that it was "absolutely essential" that Japan concentrate on shipbuilding if she hoped to capitalize on the rich resources of conquered areas, the U.S. Office of War Information reported.

Lack of shipping "determined the fate of Germany in the first World War," the broadcast warned, pointing out that lack of transport facilities prevents the shipping of products from Java, Borneo, Burma and other occupied areas to Japan.

60 Nazi Fighter Planes Fall Victim To Fortresses In Daylight Foray

LONDON (CP)—Boldly defying Hitler's fading air strength, swarms of U.S. heavy bombers flew unescorted and in daylight Wednesday to within 80 miles of Berlin to smash the Nazi aircraft plant at Oschersleben. R.A.F., R.C.A.F. and other Allied planes provided fighter protection on the last lap of the return trip.

Squadrons of R.A.F. fighters crossed and recrossed the Channel this morning in a continuation of widespread sweeps over northern France and Belgium and later Allied bombers headed over the coast with more squadrons of fighters.

British fighters destroyed three enemy fighters this morning without loss.

NAZI REPORT RAIDS

Indicating the round-the-clock bombings had extended into Wednesday night, the Berlin radio reported early today that R.A.F. planes had made scattered "nuisance raids" on northwestern Germany during the night. There was no immediate confirmation.

The Oschersleben raid was the deepest daylight thrust of the war into Germany.

Kassel, site of a big Focke-Wulf assembly plant about 200 miles southwest of Berlin, also was battered by the big bombers, which were reported to have shot down upwards of 60 Nazi fighters. Twenty-three bombers were lost. One Allied fighter plane also was lost.

The American blow at enemy aircraft production followed a massive night raid by the R.A.F. and Canadian planes on smoldering Hamburg, in which more than 2,300 long tons were loosed—the greatest bomb load in history.

U-BOAT YARDS HIT

Photographs of Hamburg made Tuesday, before the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. went back that night to finish the job, revealed great damage and fires still licking the docks, the air ministry said. At least nine "very important buildings" were hit in the submarine yards, the announcement said, and damage even before the Tuesday night raid extended to hundreds of acres.

Allied medium bombers also were active over France and Belgium Wednesday, attacking industrial targets and airfields, and R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. Spitfire squadrons strafed the Dutch coast.

German raiders again hit back weakly at Britain Thursday night, dropping bombs at "one or two points" in East Anglia. London had a brief air alert. An Air Ministry and Home Security communique said damage was slight and no casualties resulted.

Japanese Shipping In South Pacific Suffers Big Loss

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—Allied aircraft and surface units ripped into Japanese shipping in the southwest Pacific Wednesday, setting fire to a destroyer and a transport, scoring near misses on a small freighter and destroying 13 barges.

Heavy bombers, summoned by a reconnaissance plane, dropped explosives squarely on the destroyer and transport off Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Both ships were left burning fiercely. The two vessels had a cover of fighter planes, but there was no report they attempted interception.

Liberators, striking Manokwari at the northwestern tip of Dutch New Guinea by daylight, scored damaging near misses on a 2,500-ton freighter.

Aerial battering of the Munda, New Georgia, airbase area continued. Forty-seven tons of bombs were dropped on enemy entrenchments and gun positions.

The communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said nothing of ground activity at Munda, but a spokesman, when questioned, replied there were no new reports. American jungle fighters Tuesday were within 2,100 yards of the air-drome.

(A delayed dispatch from J. Norman Lodge, Associated Press war correspondent with U.S. invasion forces outside Munda, said that although the air-drome was within sight, it may be mid-August before a foothold is gained. Lodge said the terrain and undergrowth is the worst yet encountered, and up to the time of writing, July 26, it had stopped the Allies' tanks. Anti-tank guns were seemingly unable to make a dent in solid coral caves sheltering enemy machine-gun positions, he said. However, despite all difficulties, U.S. land forces are steadily moving forward with gains of 200 yards daily considered remarkable achievements.)

Fifteen enemy fighters attempted to intercept a formation of Mitchells raiding a barge base on Rein Bay on the north coast of New Britain. Nine Lightnings, escorting the Mitchells, engaged the enemy, shot down six Zeros and probably destroyed two more. There was no report of any Allied loss. The American bombers destroyed seven barges and two launches and set off violent explosions in fuel dumps near the bay.

Norway Reports U-Boat Mutinies

MONTREAL (CP)—More reports of mutiny among German U-boat crews in Norway have reached the Norwegian government's press attaché here.

The reports said a U-boat was sunk by its German crew in Trondhjem Fjord and in northern Norwegian waters U-boats were so badly sabotaged by their crews that they had to return to port. At Stavanger, the reports said, several crews refused to obey orders to put to sea.

The reports added that the acts of sabotage and mutinies occurred at the same time and that a secret organization is believed to be behind the actions of the crews. Several death sentences were said to have been imposed on involved crews.

Shooting, Parades, Games Keep 203rd Men Active

(Special to The Times)

COURTENAY—The 203rd battery (Victoria) of the 39th Field Brigade (Reserve) was visited last week-end by Maj. Gen. B. W. Browne, G.O.C., Canadian Reserve Army; Col. Sparling and Lt. Col. H. M. Thomas. They attended church parade Sunday morning, presided over by Capt. Geo. Biddle, battery padre and pastor of St. John's Church in Victoria. Gen. Browne read the lesson. A choir of sergeants, led by two accordeons, provided the music for the service, held in a lovely glade, by the side of a stream.

On Monday, Gen. Browne observed a battery shoot and expressed general satisfaction with the standard of training and efficiency of the battery, as well as with the spirit and morale of the unit. He made comparisons with other artillery units he had recently visited and they were very complimentary to the 203rd. The whole battery is very keen, even the padre himself showing great interest in the technique of gunnery and tactics.

SUNDAY PICNIC
The lighter side of the camp is not being overlooked. Sunday afternoon and evening the battery picnicked at Williams Beach, F troop beat E troop at softball. When the game between officers and sergeants was called off late in the evening, the score was 17-16 in favor of the officers, and the sergeants generously conceded the game, but it was their turn to go to bat in an unfinished inning.

The 203rd has developed a new fatigue duty for training camp, it appears. One of the officers, calling on friends in Courtenay, was surprised when Gunner... answered the door. Asked whether the people of the house were at home, the gunner replied they were at a show and that he was "looking after the kids."

Wednesday night there was a battery dance in Courtenay, sponsored by the Kinmen Club, which invited dancing partners for everyone.

Altogether the battery is putting in a highly profitable, strenuous and enjoyable two weeks of intensive training. Men who came up for a week have advised employers they are staying for two. Business and professional men are racing about in fields and the jungle of logged-off lands and slashes and thriving on the change from sedentary life.

The battery is enjoying the benefit of an excellent staff of instructors—officers and N.C.O.s—attached for the period of the training camp.

On Sunday morning officers and men will pack their bags and start the journey back to Victoria, traveling in a special troop train.

Canadians, British In 8th Army Take Mountain Village

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA (AP)—In a dispatch Wednesday night from the 8th Army's front, Alan Humphreys, special correspondent of Reuters news agency, said Canadian troops had wrested a mountain village from the German 15th Armored Division after a day and a night of hard fighting.

He continued: "Using a good deal of artillery support, the Canadians went in Tuesday morning on a narrow front. By late afternoon they had reached a point 600 yards from the village."

Clifford Webb, London Daily Herald war correspondent, said in a dispatch from "The Sicilian Battlefield" that Canadians and British troops had combined to capture a mountain village. It was not immediately clear if he was referring to the same mountain village Humphreys said had been taken by Canadians.

Webb also spoke of strong artillery support in the operation. He described, saying: "There was hand-to-hand fighting in the streets until after dark, but by midnight our troops were well established."

"Heavy and concentrated artillery fire preceded the first series of infantry attacks... 200 Germans and Italians surrendered. They were suffering visibly from the effects of the terrific artillery pounding the town had been taking."

Planes Hit Kiska 40 Times in 4 Days

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN
AN ADVANCED ALEUTIAN BASE (Delayed, AP)—American army and navy forces have capitalized to the greatest possible extent on the unusually clear weather of recent days to blast at the Japanese on Kiska from the air and sea.

(A recapitulation of navy department communiques showed Kiska was attacked 40 times in the four days ended Tuesday.)

The weather made possible last week the heaviest naval bombardment yet seen in the Aleutian war theatre. Various heavy fleet units steamed past Kiska just out of range of the island's comparatively small coastal guns but within easy range of the ships' artillery.

Sunshine also permitted the series of air raids which reached a climax with 10 in one day Saturday, some at low level.

(A navy communique Wednesday reported 13 raids on Kiska Monday.)

These raids were mostly by army aircraft, although naval aircraft also took part.

NANAIMO (CP)—R.N. Hanson, "federal" coal consultant, has been chosen independent chairman of the board of arbitration dealing with a dispute in District 18, United Mineworkers of America, and affecting the extraction of sheet iron from pillars in the Western Canadian Col series at Blairmore, Alta.

Eisenhower Tells Italian People Nazi Troops Only Peace Obstacle

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the Italian people in a broadcast at noon today that the continued presence of German troops on Italian soil is the only remaining obstacle to an immediate and honorable peace.

"You want peace," he told the Italians. "You can have peace immediately and peace under honorable conditions which our governments have already offered you."

(A London dispatch reported that "heavy jamming" by Axis radio interfered with reception of the broadcast in the British Isles.)

Declaring that the people themselves have removed the greatest obstacle standing between Italy and the United Nations, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"We commend the Italian people and the House of Savoy for ridding themselves of Mussolini, the man who involved them in the war as a tool of Hitler and brought them to the verge of disaster."

(This was the first official message from any Allied leader commending the Italian Royal House for its part in Mussolini's removal. It was disclosed in London last week that Eisenhower had been entrusted with full authority to deal with any peace offers.)

COME AS LIBERATORS
"We are coming to you as liberators," the American commander of Allied forces in North Africa and Sicily told the Italians, and he added:

"Your part is to cease immediately any assistance to German military forces in your country. If you do this we will rid you of Germans and deliver you from the horrors of war."

The general promised that if all British and Allied prisoners now in Italian hands are restored safely and sent into Germany, all Italian prisoners taken in Tunisia and Sicily would be returned to their homes.

"The ancient traditions and liberties of your country will be returned," he said. "As you have already seen in Sicily, our occupation will be mild and beneficial."

U.S. Approves Eisenhower's Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Cordell Hull indicated today the United States relies on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the Allied forces, to obtain Italy's unconditional surrender.

Asked at his press conference if the Italians had made any approaches, Hull said there had been none, to his knowledge.

He tacitly endorsed Gen. Eisenhower's declaration to the Italians today, with an assertion of his confidence in the Allied commander's sound judgment in dealing with military affairs at the front. Gen. Eisenhower told the Italian people in a broadcast today that the presence of German troops in Italy is the only obstacle to an honorable peace. (See story, Page 2.)

LONDON (CP)—Col. J. L. Ralston, Canadian defence minister who arrived in London Wednesday, lost no time in getting down to business. He left early today for Canadian army field headquarters for talks with the Dominion's military leaders in Britain.

Hit Aegean Ships

CAIRO (AP)—R.A.F. fighter planes damaged two enemy merchant vessels Wednesday in patrols over the Aegean Sea, leaving one burning and the other riddled with cannonfire, a Middle East air communique announced today.

The announcement also said that R.A.F. aircraft had sunk three enemy schooners, damaged two others in the Ionian Sea on Tuesday. All planes returned from the sweeps, the communique added.

No Truck With Fascism

ALTHOUGH MR. ROOSEVELT'S broadcast last night was largely confined to the home front and its relationship to what is transpiring along the battlelines in various parts of the world, the peoples of the Allied nations were gratified to hear from his lips the reaffirmation of the "Unconditional Surrender" condition upon which the President and Mr. Churchill agreed at the Casablanca conference last January. Echoing the sentiments of the British Prime Minister, too, Mr. Roosevelt visualized the reconstitution of Italy by the Italian people who will eventually choose their own government "in accordance with the basic principles of liberty and equality." But "we will have no truck with Fascism in any way, shape or manner; we will permit no vestige of Fascism to remain."

The new Italian Prime Minister's prerequisite for doing business with the United Nations, of course, was the dissolution of the Fascist party and all its sinister trappings. And if he is able to extract any personal consolation from the present Italian scene, Marshal Badoglio is entitled to it;
for he was the patriot who beseeched King Victor to put an end to the famous March on Rome before it grew to serious proportions. But the monarch—never accused of possessing a surplus of political or psychological acumen—would have none of it. He telephoned the blackshirt upstart to continue his "journey" to the Eternal City and accept the nation's executive leadership. This fact is worth bearing in mind, especially in the light of Mr. Roosevelt's implied warning to all who would seek to cling to Fas-cism's skirts in any guise. The presidential dictum, incidentally, should be observed by that element in the democratic states which has leaned, and may still be leaning, in the direction of authoritarian philosophy.

Following closely Mr. Churchill's and Mr.
Roosevelt's direct injunctions and appeals to the Italian people comes General Eisenhower's assurance this morning that the Allied armies now inexorably pressing toward the northeastern tip of Sicily are fighting their way as liberators. Thus the commander-in-chief of the United Nations forces in the Mediterranean theatre appropriately points to the restoration of normal conditions in Italian territory already occupied as the pattern which could promptly be followed on the mainland proper—if the Italians will only get rid of the Germans and surrender unconditionally. There will naturally be a division of opinion as to the wisdom or otherwise of General Eisenhower's commendation of the House of Savoy for its part in the removal of Mussolini "and his gang." The world has not forgotten that King Victor wished his troops "God Speed" as they sailed away to murder the Abyssin-ians and the opponents of Fascism in Spain!

Public Opinion

GALLUP POLLS AND SIMILAR MEANS of taking the mental temperature of the average thinking individual often reveal startling changes in public opinion on many important domestic subjects. The results of such tests are not only illuminating in themselves; they reflect an interest in the questions of the day which might have remained dormant if scientific methods of collecting views had not been applied. Nor need such "revelations" disturb the even tenor of the normal person's thought processes; to suggest that the product of a cross-section of a public canvass—regardless of the inquiry involved—automatically sets a pattern for mass adherence is to discount the intelligence of the average man in the street.

The implication inherent in such an argument is that the great majority of the "ordinary people" have not attained their thinking to the stresses of these times or the requirements of the future. There is ample evidence to prove that more and more Canadians, Britons and Americans are applying themselves to the consideration of the problems to which they will fall heir when peace returns. Individualism in thought and action is not likely to dissolve in the glare of any "straw vote" publicity.

Something might be said in favor of discussing Gallup Polls for testing public opinion in respect of matters on which those asked to express views cannot possibly have full or precise information. In such cases there is frequently a dangerous tendency to give unbridled play to prejudice and prejudice—especially in certain aspects of international collaboration. A case in point, for example, was the Gallup Poll held in Great Britain and the United States to test the cross-sectional view of the comparative contribution of four countries toward the winning of the war.

The question asked was: "Which country has done the most toward winning the war?"
Britons responded: Russia, 50 per cent;
Great Britain, 42 per cent; China, 5 per cent;
the United States, 3 per cent. Americans responded: United States, 55 per cent; Russia, 32 per cent; Great Britain, 9 per cent; China,
4 per cent.

One conclusion to be drawn from the foregoing is that certain ill-informed people do not remember a controversy which flared up for several years after the first Great War. And it is well that this should be revealed and dealt with before damage is done.

It is too late in the day, of course, to recall the fate of the League of Nations, how popular pressure in the United States influenced too many Senators against its acceptance;
but it is to the point to suggest that the division of opinion on the Gallup Poll question under discussion may convey to the less imaginative but potentially-articulate elements that this has become an American war—despite the fact that it is global in every sense of the term, and nearly four years old. Evidently more enlightenment is needed.

Here are some points which should be borne in mind by that large percentage of our neighbors who would seem to put Brittain and China at the bottom of the class:
In the first place, China had been fighting her part of what is, after all, the same war four and a half years before Pearl Harbor.
Britain had had two years and three months of war before Japan attacked the United States, 12 months of which she had stood alone in defending—as well as her own hearts and homes—the basic object of the Monroe Doctrine. And for six months before our neighbor fully realized that isolationism was an exploded myth, the armies of the Soviet Union had drawn a substantial part of the Nazi Wehrmacht into their own territory. The first Great War was won, militarily speaking, by the Allied and Associated Powers; this one will see the triumph of the United Nations—if they are not divided by loose concepts of joint efforts and responsibilities.

Both Kings Picked Losers

FOR MANY MONTHS BEFORE ADOLF Hitler finally pulled the wool over the eyes of King Boris it was generally believed that Bulgaria somehow would find a way of remaining outside the Axis fold. The nation's peasantry always had been friendly to the peoples of the Soviet Union and antagonistic to German National Socialism; and many Bulgars recall what happened to them through their military association with the Reich of Wilhelm Hohenzollern. Small wonder, then, that the Bulgarian Parliament is in session for the first time in the month of July; it is less surprising that an almost hermetically-sealed censorship is operating at Sofia.

Not only are King Boris and his ministers worried over the first serious crack in the Axis structure; they have certain territorial considerations on their consciences.
Bulgaria at present is in possession of all of Jugoslav Macedonia and a part of Grecian Macedonia; these were her tickets of admission to the Nazi "new order." Hence the prospect of Italy's complete collapse casts ominous shadows before the Bulgarian monarch and those of his advisers who won the smiles of the Fuehrer. And on the scene at Sofia, of course, Turkey is training interested eyes. She may decide at any time that her western neighbor's continued association with a lost cause is inimical to her position in the Mediterranean. That is by the way.

It is not difficult to understand King Boris' dilemma. While his thoughts belong to himself, he needs no reminding that his country was the first of the satellites of the Central Powers to plead for an armistice—six weeks before the end of the first Great War. Unconditional surrender soon followed.
King Ferdinand decamped to Berlin; and the present monarch succeeded him. In other words, Boris repeated the mistake of his father; he picked a loser. He knows, too, that Turkey has an old score to settle with his country.

Democracy's Shirkers

ONTARIO IS IN THE MIDST OF AN important election. Three parties are bidding for power, one of them seeking to divide the province politically on class lines. The result will probably determine the fate of the two-party system in Ontario for some time, with possible repercussions in other parts of Canada. Yet, with such issues at stake, reports are that few people, in some districts at least, are bothering to attend public meetings or to show much interest otherwise in the campaign. From some of the largest ridings, with thousands entitled to vote, reports relate that only 200 or so persons have attended even the nominating conventions.

Such apathy seems strange in the light of all the talk about democracy and the new world for which we are fighting. The Ottawa Journal wonders whether some people who talk of democracy really mean what they say, or understand what democracy and government are about, for they are never seen at the meetings which really concern government. Apparently, they are too superior, too "intellectual" to get down in the dusty arena of practical politics and do something useful and worthwhile about their own business.

We in British Columbia also know of such persons. Between elections they bear a constant grudge against those entrusted with the responsibilities of government, municipal, provincial, federal. On election day, however, they are anywhere else but at the polls. They are the people whose names remain unchecked on the poll clerk's list when the polls close. They are the ones who hold themselves aloof from any political association or activity. They speak so sneeringly of "politicians," yet assume no responsibility themselves. Such are the cheaters, accepting the privileges vouchsafed to them
under democracy, but shirking its duties.
They have no right to prate about political matters. They are the enemies within the democratic state. It is not through such political snobbery as they exemplify that we can strengthen our governments or elevate our politics.

FALL OF A GOD

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE, I suppose, for an outsider to realize what kind of a shock the retirement of Mussolini must have been to the ordinary Italian. For this mountebank had become something more than a man in Italy. He had become a god.

This writer doesn't know much about Italy, having spent only a few days there before the war. But he did see enough even in this brief visit to grasp the magic of Mus-solini's name among his people. I remember a fat and sweltering hotel keeper in Venice, a jolly little man of good will, whose face lighted up as he said: "All the nations of the world, they make a sanctions against Italy because we are fighting a few black men in Ethiopia, you see. But we don't care for them. Not with our Mussolini! Not with that great-a beeg boy, that Mussolini! We don't have to worry about anything so long we have that great-a beeg boy, Mussolini!" And there was an expression on his face of ecstasy as if he were talking about God.

That, I imagine, was the feeling of all the bourgeois classes of Italy, whom Mussolini protected and pampered. When he removed himself or was removed, limp, from the stage of history a few days ago, it must have been as if the sun had gone out, as if all nature had been convulsed.

That is the essential difference between us and the people who cling to dictators.
We can never quite imagine that any man is essential and irreplaceable. We can never build up a human being into a god. In this we are the true surviving Christians of the world, for Christianity rejects the notion that man can ever be perfect or, indeed, perfectible. It always assumes that he must strive for perfection, but never achieve it.

The dictators, on the other hand, assume human perfectibility and assume that they themselves are perfect, so that the public must obey them. We never admit this complete virtue on the part of any ruler whatever and, therefore, never give complete power to any man. Thus if one of our leaders drops dead there are always others to take his place. The machine goes on.

THE STATE

THE WHOLE STATE of Italy was Mussolini. Like the Sun King he could say
"L'etat, c'est moi," or in the Italian version —"de country, dat's me, Mussolini!" The outside world was impressed with Mussolini because the outside world had lost its sense of moral principle. It knew that Mussolini violated every moral principle, both in his public life and in his private life, wherein he maintained a harem of concubines and a tribe of illegitimate offspring; but the outside world thought that, after all, Mussolini was keeping Italy in order. According to the favorite cliché, he made the trains run on time. If the trains ran down and killed Italian freedom, that was too bad. The trains, after all, must run.

The trouble was that in the end even this excuse did not survive. The trains did not run on time. As a Vancouver paper said the other day, only the Italian army ran on time, and before time, and finally Mussolini himself was running faster than the trains, but not fast enough.

HAVE WE LEARNED?

THE QUESTION WHICH arises out of the end of the great balcony poseur is whether the outside world has learned the lesson of principle yet; whether it has learned that principles cannot be violated with impunity, that they always catch up on you in the end. If we have not learned that lesson, we shall recognize in Italy another government of the Mussolini sort, under another name. We shall, perhaps, firmly establish that preposterous Charlie McCarthy, the King of Italy, through whose mouth Mussolini, the ventriloquist, talked for so many years; or some other mountebank of the same style, just because he can make the trains run on time.

The whole question of this age, indeed,
is embraced in that phrase about the trains.
The question is whether it is more important to keep the trains running on time or to keep men free, even if they are a little behind time. In the last 20 years we kept the trains running on time all right but they were all headed for an open switch which derailed us.

The ride was fine as long as it lasted,
with maniacs like Mussolini at the throttle leering at the people beside the track. In other words, we have to decide whether we should put principle first or expediency first;
whether it is more important to assure efficiency or liberty. The queer thing is that liberty in the end turns out to be more efficient than tyranny, for the tyrant's train always breaks down just when he needs it most, if only for a get-away.

BOMBERS OVER ROME

Bombing of Rome provides a chance to quote a little Shakespeare appropriately.
This from "Julius Caesar."

SCENE—A STREET IN ROME

"Are not you moved, when all the sway of earth

Shakes like a thing unfirm? ... I have seen tempests when the scolding winds

Have raved the knotty oaks, and I have seen
The ambitious ocean swell and rage and foam

To be exalted with the threatening clouds;
But never till tonight, never till now

Do I see through a tempest dropping fire.
Either there is a civil strife in heaven,

Or else the world, too saucy with the gods,
Incenses them to send destruction."

He Who Laughs Last

Beer, Candy and Soft Drinks

From House of Commons Hansard.

MR. HUSLEY, Minister of Finance: Perhaps I should discuss one at a time the purposes for which sugar is made available. The cut in the amount of sugar made available for candy is 30 per cent this year before the amount allowed in 1941. The same cut of 30 per cent is made in respect of wine and soft drinks.

The hon. member says that the relationship of the amount available for canning of fruit is an incorrect relationship. To begin with I would point out that the 30 per cent cut is a substantial and severe one. The hon. member seems to think that we should discourage to a greater extent
what we do the use of soft drinks.
Well, human beings are so constituted, whether we like it or not, that they have to drink something.

Mr. Nicholson: What about cold water?

Mr. Husley: Legislative bodies which have tried to decree that the only drink should be cold water have encountered some little resistance in public opinion.
And if they are to have freedom to drink something other than water, I suppose the alternatives are soft drinks and beer.

Mr. Graydon: Oh, no—milk.

Mr. Husley: That is a food rather than a drink.

Mr. Nicholson: And buttermilk.

Mr. Husley: The possibility of utilizing these food drinks—because that is what they are—in a large way, is limited. I know the hon. member does not think that people should drink more beer. And with a very large number of persons in the country complaining that they cannot get as much beer as they would like,

I am afraid that the discomfort of the population would be considerable if we made an extremely drastic cut in the amount of soft drinks they can obtain.

We are told that in war plants the availability of soft drinks is essential to morale. It would not be essential to my morale, and probably not to the morale of hon. friend; but it does appear that there are a great many people in the country who do like to drink some soft drinks.
I am afraid that if we cut the amount of soft drinks by more than 30 per cent along with the cut in beer which has taken place, we would have a greater outcry than we should have in a time of war.

With regards to candy I would direct the minds of hon. members back to a session or two ago when we were discussing the 30 per cent tax on candy. I well recall the speeches made at that time. I remember speeches by hon. members who are also members of the medical profession, in which they argued that candy was not an article we should tax, because it was good, energy-producing food, particularly for children.

We all remember the story about those poor little boys and girls who, we were told, were going into the stores to buy a stick of candy for a cent. They would reach up their little hands and hold out the cent to the storekeeper, saying: "A cent's worth of candy, please," and the storekeeper would say: "Oh, no, my child; that is two cents now, because of the Mackenzie King government." I think it was the hon. member for Peterborough West who accused us of having arranged it so that we would even take candy from kids. I am just mentioning these things to show that candy has made friends—or at least that it had a lot of friends at that time in the House of Commons. If we cut down to too great an extent the amount of sugar available for candy we get results which are not the results we should like to have.

Mr. Graydon: The minister must have been more impressed than we thought he was.

Mr. Husley: Oh, I was touched by the speech of the hon. member.

Mr. Graydon: So were the taxpayers.

Mr. Husley: That is what the hon. member said. With regard to wine, we are following the same course; that is subject to a 30 per cent cut. The hon. member referred to the heavy investment, and the implication was that we were very tender toward heavy investors. Whenever anything is done about wine the investors who are most vocal are the grape growers.

Roosevelt Says First Crack In Axis Has Come In Italy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's radio address:

Over a year and a half ago I said to the Congress: "The military in Berlin, Rome and Tokyo started this war, but the massed, angered forces of common humanity will finish it."

That prophecy is in the process of being fulfilled. The massed, angered forces of common humanity are on the march. They are going forward—on the Russian front, in the vast Pacific area, and into Europe—converging upon their ultimate objectives, Berlin and Tokyo.

The first crack in the Axis has come. The criminal, corrupt Fascist regime in Italy is going to pieces.

The pirate philosophy of the Fascists and Nazis cannot stand adversity. The military superiority of the United Nations—on sea and land, and in the air—has been applied in the right place and at the right time.

Hitler refused to send sufficient help to save Mussolini. In fact, Hitler's troops in Sicily stole the Italian's motor equipment, leaving Italian soldiers so stranded that they had no choice but to surrender. Once again the Germans betrayed their Italian allies, as they had done time and time again on the Russian front and in the long retreat from Egypt, through Libya and Tripoli, to the final surrender in Tunisia.

Mussolini came to the reluctant conclusion that the "jig was up," he could see the shadow of the long arm of justice.

But he and his Fascist gang will be brought to book, and punished for their crimes against humanity.

No criminal will be allowed to escape by the expedient of "resignation."

Our terms to Italy are still the same as our terms to Germany and Japan—"unconditional surrender."

We will have no truck with Fascism in any way, shape or manner. We will permit no vestige of Fascism to remain.

Eventually Italy will reconstitute itself. It will be the people of Italy who will do that, choosing their own government in accordance with the basic democratic principles of liberty and equality. In the meantime, the United Nations will not follow the pattern set by Mussolini and Hitler and the Japanese for the treatment of occupied countries—the pattern of pillage and starvation.

Italians in Sicily Now Being Helped

We are already helping the Italian people in Sicily. With their cordial co-operation, we are establishing and maintaining security and order—we are dissolving the organizations which have kept them under Fascist tyranny—we are providing them with the necessities of life until the time comes when they can fully provide for themselves.

Indeed, the people in Sicily today are rejoicing in the fact that, for the first time in years, they are permitted to enjoy the fruits of their own labors—they are what they themselves grow instead of having it stolen from them by the Fascists and the Nazis.

In every country conquered by the Nazis, the Fascists or the Japanese militarists, the people have been reduced to the status of slaves or chattels.

It is our determination to restore these conquered peoples to the dignity of human beings, masters of their own fate, entitled to freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, freedom from fear.

We have started to make good on that promise.

I am sorry if I step on the toes of those Americans who, playing party politics at home, call that kind of foreign policy "Crazy altruism," and "starry-eyed dreaming."

Meanwhile, the war in Sicily and Italy goes on. It must go on, and will go on, until the Italian people realize the futility of continuing to fight in a lost cause—a cause to which the people of Italy never gave their wholehearted approval and support.

It is a little over a year since we planned the north-African campaign. It is six months since we planned the Sicilian campaign. I confess that I am of an impatient disposition, but I think that I understand, and that most people understand, the amount of time necessary to prepare for any major military or naval operation. We cannot just pick up the telephone and order a new campaign to start the next week.

For example, behind the invasion forces of north Africa were thousands of ships and planes guarding the long, perilous sea lanes, carrying the men, the equipment and the supplies to the point of attack. And behind all these were the railroad lines and highways that carried the men and the munitions to the ports of embarkation—there were the factories and the mines and the farms that turned up the materials—there were the training camps where the men learned how to perform the strange and difficult and dangerous tasks which were to meet them on the beaches and in the deserts and the mountains.

All this had to be repeated in the attack on Sicily. Here the factor of air attack was added—for we could use north Africa as the base for softening up the landing places and lines of defense in Sicily, and the lines of supply in Italy.

1,100 Gallons of Gas For Bombing Trip

It is interesting for us to realize that every Flying Fortress that bombed harbor installations at Naples from its base in north Africa required 1,100 gallons of gasoline for each single mission, and that this is the equal of about 375 "A" ration tickets—enough gas to drive your car five times across this continent. You will better understand your part in the war—and what gasoline rationing means—if you multiply this by the gasoline needs of thousands of planes and hundreds of thousands of jeeps, trucks and tanks now serving overseas.

I think that the personal convenience of the individual or the individual family back home here in the United States will appear somewhat less important when I tell you that the initial assault force on Sicily involved 3,000 ships which carried 160,000 men—Americans, British, Canadians and together with 14,000 vehicles, 600 tanks and 1,800 guns. This initial force was followed every day and every night by thousands of reinforcements.

The meticulous care with which the operation in Sicily was planned has paid dividends. For our casualties in men, ships and material have been low—in fact, far below our estimate.

All of us are proud of the superb skill and courage of the officers and men who have conducted and are conducting this operation. The toughest resistance developed on the front of the British 8th Army, which included the Canadians. But that is no new experience for that magnificent fighting force which has made the Germans pay a heavy price for each hour of delay in the final victory. The American 7th Army, after a stormy landing on the exposed beaches of southern Italy, swept with record speed across the island into Palermo. For many of our troops this was their first battle experience but they have carried themselves like veterans.

And we must give credit for the co-ordination of the diverse forces in the field, and for the planning of the whole campaign, to the wise and skillful leadership of Gen. Eisenhower. Admiral Cunningham, Gen. Alexander and Air Marshal Tedder have been towers of strength in handling the complex details of naval, ground and air activities.

You have heard some people say that the British and the Americans can never get along well together—you have heard some people say that the army and navy and air forces can never get along well together, that real co-operation between them is impossible. Tunisia and Sicily have given the lie, once and for all to these narrow-minded prejudices.

The dauntless fighting spirit of the British people in this war has been expressed in the historic words and deeds of Winston Churchill—and the world knows how the American people feel about him.

Ahead of us are much bigger fights. We and our allies will go into them as we went into Sicily—together. And we shall carry on together.

Production of Ships Almost Unbelievable

Today our production of ships is almost unbelievable. This year we are producing over 19,000,000 tons of merchant shipping and next year our production will be over 21,000,000 tons. And in addition to our shipments across the Atlantic we must realize that in this war, we are operating in the Aleutians, in the distant parts of the southwest Pacific, in India and off the shores of South America.

For several months we have been losing fewer ships by sinkings, and we have been destroying more and more U-boats. We hope this will continue. But we cannot be sure. We must not lower our guard for one single instant.

One tangible result of our great increase in merchant shipping—which will be good news to civilians at home—is that tonight

we are able to terminate the rationing of coffee. We also expect that within a short time we shall get greatly increased allowances of sugar.

Those few Americans who grouse and complain about the inconveniences of life here in the United States should learn some lessons from the civilian populations of our Allies—Britain, China, Russia—and of all the lands occupied by our common enemies.

The heaviest and most decisive fighting today is going on in Russia. I am glad that the British and we have been able to contribute somewhat to the striking power of the Russian armies.

In 1941-1942 the Russians were able to retire without breaking, to move many of their war plants from western Russia far into the interior, to stand together with complete unanimity in the defense of their homeland.

The success of the Russian armies has shown that it is dangerous to make prophecies about them—a fact forcibly brought home to that mystic master of strategic intuition, Herr Hitler.

The short-lived German offensive, launched early this month, was a desperate attempt to bolster the morale of the German people. The Russians were not fooled by this. They went ahead with their own plans for attack—plans which co-ordinate with the whole United Nations' offensive strategy.

The world has never seen greater devotion, determination and self-sacrifice than have been displayed by the Russian people and their armies, under the leadership of Marshal Josef Stalin.

With a nation which, in saving itself is thereby helping to save all the world from the Nazi menace, this country should always be glad to be a good neighbor and a sincere friend in the world of the future.

Japs Pushed Around In Pacific Area

In the Pacific we are pushing the Japs around from the Aleutians to New Guinea. There, too, we have taken the initiative—and we are not going to let go of it.

It becomes clearer and clearer that the attrition, the whittling down process against the Japanese is working. The Japs have lost more planes and more ships than they have been able to replace.

The continuous and energetic prosecution of the war of attrition will drive the Japs back from their over-extended line running from Burma and Siam and the Straits Settlement through the Netherlands Indies to eastern New Guinea and the Solomons. There is good reason to believe that their shipping and their air power cannot support such outposts.

Our naval, land and air strength in the Pacific is constantly growing. If the Japanese are basing their future plans for the Pacific on a long period in which they will be permitted to consolidate and exploit their conquered resources, they had better start revising their plans now. I give that to them merely as a helpful suggestion.

We are delivering planes and vital war supplies for the heroic armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and we must do more at all costs.

Our air supply line from India to China across enemy territory continues despite attempted Japanese interference. We have seized the initiative from the Japanese in the air over Burma and now enjoy superiority. We are bombing Japanese communications, supply dumps, and bases in China, Indo-China and Burma.

But, we are still far from our main objectives in the war against Japan. Let us remember how far we were, a year ago, from any of our objectives in the European theatre. We are pushing forward to occupation of positions which in time will enable us to attack the Japanese islands themselves from the north, from the south, from the east, and from the west.

You have heard it said that while we are succeeding greatly on the fighting front, we are failing miserably on the home front. This is another of those immaturities—a false slogan easy to state but untrue in the essential facts.

For, the longer this war goes on the clearer it becomes that no one can draw a blue pencil down the middle of a page and call one side "the fighting front" and the other side "the home front." The two of them are unexorably tied together.

Every combat division, every naval task force, every squadron of fighting planes is dependent for its equipment and ammunition and fuel and food, as indeed it is for its manpower, on the American people in civilian clothes in the offices and in the factories and on the farms at home.

The same kind of careful planning that galloped victory in north Africa and Sicily is required if we are to make victory an enduring reality and do our share in building the kind of peaceful world which will justify the sacrifices made in this war.

All Important Now To Get On With War

The United Nations are substantially agreed on the general objectives for the postwar world. They are also agreed that this is not the time to engage in an international discussion of all the terms of peace and all the details of the future. We must not relax our pressure on the enemy by taking time out to define every boundary and settle every political controversy in every part of the world. The all-important thing now is to get on with the war—and to win it. While concentrating on military victory, we are not neglecting the planning of the things to come, the freedoms which we know will make for more decency and greater justice throughout the world.

Among other things we are, today, laying plans for the return to civilian life of our gallant men and women in the armed services. They must not be demobilized into an environment of inflation and unemployment, to a place on a bread line or on a corner selling apples. We must, this time, have plans ready—instead of waiting to do a hasty, inefficient, and ill-considered job at the last moment.

I have assured our men in the armed forces that the American people would not let them down when the war is won.

I hope that the Congress will help in carrying out this assurance, for obviously the executive branch of the government cannot do it alone. May the Congress do its duty in this regard. The American people will insist on fulfilling this American obligation to the men and women in the armed forces who are winning this war for us.

Of course, the returning soldier and sailor and marine are a part of the problem of demobilizing the rest of the millions of Americans who have been working and living in a war economy since 1941.

That larger objective of reconverting war-time America to a peace-time basis is one for which your government is laying plans to be submitted to the Congress for action.

But the members of the armed forces have been compelled to make greater economic sacrifice and every other kind of sacrifice than the rest of us, and are entitled to definite action to help take care of their special problems.

The least to which they are entitled, it seems to me, is something like this:

1. Mustering-out pay to every member of the armed forces and merchant marine when he or she is honorably discharged, large enough in each case to cover a reasonable period of time between his discharge and the finding of a new job.

2. In case no job is found after diligent search, then unemployment insurance if the individual registers with the United States employment service.

3. An opportunity for members of the armed services to get further education or trade training at the cost of their government.

4. Allowance of credit to all members of the armed forces, under unemployment compensation and federal old-age and survivors' insurance, for their period of service. For these purposes they should be treated as if they had continued their employment in private industry.

5. Improved and liberalized provisions for hospitalization, rehabilitation and medical care of disabled members of the armed forces and merchant marine.

6. Sufficient pensions for disabled members of the armed forces. Your government is drawing up other serious, constructive plans for certain immediate forward moves. They concern food, manpower, and other domestic problems, but they tie in with our armed forces. Within a few weeks I shall speak with you again in regard to definite actions to be taken by the executive branch of the government and specific recommendations for new legislation by the Congress.

Straight Thinking Need, Not Guess Work

All our calculations for the future, however, must be based on clear understanding of the problems involved. And that can be gained only by straight thinking—not guesswork or political manipulation. I confess that I myself am sometimes bewildered by conflicting statements that I see in the press. One day I read an "authoritative" statement that we shall win the war this year, 1943—and the next day comes another statement equally "authoritative" that the war will still be going on in 1949.

Of course both extremes—of optimism and pessimism—are wrong. The length of the war will depend upon the uninterrupted continuance of all-out effort on the fighting fronts and here at home. The effort is all one.

The American soldier does not like the necessity of waiting war. And yet, if he lays off for one single instant he may lose his own life and sacrifice the lives of his comrades.

By the same token—a worker here at home may not like the driving, wartime conditions under which he has to work or live. And yet—if he gets complacent or indifferent or slacks on his job he, too, may sacrifice the lives of American soldiers and

No More Coffee For Canadians

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian coffee and sugar rations will remain on their present basis for "some time to come," despite President Roosevelt's announcement in a Washington broadcast of the end of coffee rationing for United States civilians and of the possibility of increased sugar allowances.

Just two days ago R. T. Mohan of Toronto, Prices Board administrator of tea, coffee and spices, issued a statement saying there would be no change in Canadian rations because stock piles of tea and coffee within the Dominion are not sufficient to allow an increase. He said his statement was prompted by the Washington decision.

As for sugar, Prices Board officials indicated in another statement Monday there was no present prospect of the sugar allowance being increased.

Artificial light as a means of controlling insects was probably first used in 1787 for attracting vine moths in Europe.

Canada Has Moved To Aid Soldiers

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials of the Department of Pensions and public health express interest in President Roosevelt's broadcast address and commented that his proposals for assisting demobilized United States soldiers "already are in effect in Canada in so far as the laws of the two countries are comparable."

A spokesman noted that the United States has a greater variety of social insurance in operation, but added that Canada already is covering that field with her unemployment insurance.

You Women Who Suffer From

HOT FLASHES then CHILLY FEELINGS

During 38 to 52 Years of Age!

If you—like so many women between the ages of 38 and 52—suffer from hot flashes, weak, tired, dizzy, nervous feelings, irregular periods, are blue at times—due to this middle age period in a woman's life—start at once—take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia Pinkham's Compound is very effective in relieving such distress. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also is a fine stomach tonic! Thousands upon thousands have reported benefits. Also helps for younger women to relieve distress of monthly functional disturbances. Made in Canada. Worth trying.

Red Cross Appeals For Fruit to Make Jam for Britons

Fruit is urgently required at the Red Cross jam kitchen, if Victoria is to maintain its record in helping to provide jam for Britain. Fruit may be left at 517 Yates Street or by a telephone call to Mrs. A. M. Jobling, E 9310, arrangements will be made to have it picked up.

Preserving kettles are also required and anyone having one to loan kindly telephone the above number or B 3159.

Windfalls from apples and culls are useful for the jam kitchen if anyone can spare them.

BRITONS GRATEFUL

The matron of the Sara Delano Roosevelt Nursery, Syston Court, Gloucestershire, writes the Victoria City and District Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society under date of May 28, as follows:

"Thank you very much indeed for the delicious jam that you have been kind enough to send us. It is lovely, and we are thankful to have it for the children, and grateful to you for your kindness and generosity in sending it to us. Every bit of your parcels is appreciated. We use the crates for storing winter (or summer) clothes, and we are painting some for cupboards. The tins are most useful to us, and the children like them for playing in the sandpit, and the jam is the greatest treat for the children. This is a big residential war nursery in an old Elizabethan house, and we have over 70 children from the badly-bombed areas of Stepney, the London Dockland, so it is a busy household."

Do You Feel Nervous And All on Edge?

People suffering from loss of appetite and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain, often need a nerve and general tonic. Glycero Lecithin with Vitamin B (1), supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B (1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal. If the loss of appetite was due to a deficiency of Vitamin B (1) in the diet—$1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other Drug stores. (Adv. OC-1)

Eyes Across the Channel
DOVER, England (CP)—Seven young girls in a canteen amuse themselves by telling the time from a clock in the centre of Calais across the Channel. On clear days they can plainly see the French coast and taller buildings, and with glasses can see the hour and minute hands on a clock tower in the town itself.

Pioneer 90 Today

MRS. L. LUSCOMBE

Entertaining a few of her friends in honor of her 90th birthday today is Mrs. L. Luscombe, widow of Thos Luscombe, shown above in a picture taken by the Times photographer at her home, 1019 Collinson Street. Mrs. Luscombe, formerly Miss Louisa Ford, was born in Long Melford, Suffolk, England, and came to Canada as a girl, with her father's family, making their home in the Muskoka district of Ontario. Shortly after arrival, she was united in marriage to Mr. Luscombe, formerly of Cornwall, England, and in 1876 they came west via San Francisco to take up residence in this city. For over 67 years, Mrs. Luscombe has been associated with Metropolitan Church, and takes an active interest in all its undertakings. Members of the family present today to honor their mother will be Miss Evelyn Luscombe and Mrs. L. M. Brown of this city; Mrs. Dr. A. Knight, Cordova Bay, and Mrs. E. T. Jennings of Duncan. Absent members will be Mrs. W. M. Ritchie of Vancouver; Mrs. L. Dawson and Mr. Charles Luscombe. Mrs. Luscombe's family also includes 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Miss Betsy McCallum, who left Victoria nearly two years ago to take a post in New York with the British War Purchasing Commission, has returned home to spend a holiday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. McCallum, 1328 Esquimalt Road.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nash went over to Vancouver for the marriage Saturday of the former's niece, Miss Doreen Evelyn Nash, to Wm. George Fryatt, R.C.N. V.R. The young couple will make their home at the Alvin Apartments, Victoria, after a honeymoon trip to the interior.

Miss Margery Pears, bride-elect of next month, was guest of honor when Miss Melba Ford entertained at her home, 1190 Fort Street, with a miscellaneous shower. The bride-to-be received a corsage bouquet of red roses, together with many pretty gifts contained in a decorated box. Her mother, Mrs. W. Holt, and Mrs. G. C. Nelson, mother of the groom-elect, were present with

Weddings

MURDOCH—THOMPSON

A Victoria naval man was one of the principals at an interesting wedding performed in Christ Church, St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, Thursday, July 8, at 2 p.m., when Margaret Isa, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thompson, Russell, Man., became the bride of Lieut. R. W. Murdoch, R.C.N., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Murdoch, 260 Gorge Road, Victoria. H. H. Hoyt, R.C.N., of H.M.C.S. St. Hyacinthe, read the rites, and the altar was decorated with snapdragons.

Preceded by the ushers, who were Signal-Lieut. J. S. Hall, R.C.N., and Tel-Lieut. J. B. Wadsworth, R.C.N., and her bridesmaid, Miss G. McGuigan, of Outremont, Que., the bride entered the church on the arm of Capt. A. P. Musgrave, R.C.N., commanding officer of H.M.C.S. St. Hyacinthe, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white bengaline, with full shirred skirt, sweetheart neckline and bracelet-length shirred sleeves. Her headpiece was of white Swiss straw, to which was attached a veil of fingertip length. She carried a shower bouquet of white marguerites and bouvardia. The bridesmaid was gowned in a white street-length frock, cut on the same lines as that of the bride. She wore a corsage of orchid sweet peas. The bridegroom was attended by Lieut. R. D. de Winton, R.C.N.V.R., Calgary, Alta.

Following the ceremony, the bridal car was met by a gun crew of chief and petty officers, who manned drag-ropes and pulled the car to the doorway of H.M.C.S. St. Hyacinthe, where the reception was held.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Capt. Musgrave. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, which she cut with the bridegroom's sword. The naval band played during the reception.

Later, Lieut. and Mrs. Murdoch left for the Laurentians, the bride traveling in a pale blue print dress, wearing a corsage of pink roses and sweet peas. Upon their return they will take up residence at 845 Rue Desaulniers, St. Hyacinthe.

corsage bouquets of pink carnations and white sweet peas. Games were played, and refreshments served. Others present included Mesdames W. Ford, R. Low, Misses L. Brandon, B. Hills, G. Kennedy, M. Kennedy, E. Ford, E. Wilson, W. Baxter, D. Henry and C. Simpson.

Members of the late Sir Wilfred Laurier's family, Mrs. D. A. Marchand and her daughter, Mrs. L. Pattington, with her small son, Bruce, all of Montreal, who have been guests at the Empress Hotel for some days, will leave Friday for Vancouver to resume their visit with Mrs. Marchand's daughter, Mrs. Angus G. Robertson.

Miss Ruth Corbould, R.N., of Langford, will leave tonight for Vancouver, en route to spend a vacation at the home of her mother at Prince Rupert. In September Miss Corbould will join the staff of the Prince Rupert public health service, after having been public health and school nurse of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service with headquarters at Langford for the past 18 months.

On Sunday at Our Lady of Lourdes Church the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Bell, Joco, B.C., was christened, re-

Must Stop Sending Soldiers Cosmetics

Powder puffs and compacts or lip stick and lingerie are not used by Canadian soldiers so they should not have a place in parcels sent to troops overseas. The post office weekly bulletin points out under the caption of Abuse of Soldiers' Parcels privileges.

The bulletin says Canadian Postal Corps members are not easily surprised at the contents of some overseas parcels but Base Post Office officials lift their eyebrows to discover ladies' hose, powder puffs, cosmetics, nail polish, children's dresses and even a complete layette for an infant in gift parcels intended for personal use of soldiers.

It is pointed out in the bulletin that the duty-free entry permitted by the British government applies only to packages containing bona fide gifts for the personal use of soldiers, and not for gifts to be passed on to civilians.

Cheer-up Concert To Hold Dance Contest

Two dancing contests—an old-time waltz which will start at 8.15, and a jitterbug contest at 8.30—will be the feature events of the civic cheer-up concert at Denison Hill Park tonight. Prizes will be awarded for the best dancers.

Other features will include singing competitions for members of the services, with cash for prizes. A similar contest will be held for civilians. The usual introduction of visitors will be made.

Yacht Club Fete Raises $2,500 for Red Cross Work

With more than 900 guests paying admission and the various stalls and attractions doing a thriving business, the handsome sum of approximately $2,500 was realized by the Oak Bay Red Cross gala fete at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club Wednesday afternoon. Lady Burdon, O.B.E., formally opened the fete in a graceful little speech in which she urged the guests to spend to the limit of their ability in the interests of the great humanitarian cause of the Red Cross.

BOAT TRIPS POPULAR
The grounds of the Yacht Club provided an ideal setting, to which the weather added the final touch of perfection. Against the sparkling waters of Cadboro Bay, little boats with their trim white sails danced up and down against a distant panorama of snow-clad mountains, and the inviting vista lured many of the guests aboard the "Discovery Isle," Mr. E. G. Beaumont's yacht, in which he conducted cruises throughout the afternoon.

Announced by Major L. Bullock-Webster, who officiated as master of ceremonies, a "Dance of China" by 12 pretty Chinese girls in national costume made a colorful spectacle, which was repeated several times by popular request. The girls danced to the strains of the R.C.A.F. orchestra, which also provided the music to which a bevy of pretty, tanned "bathing beauties" paraded before the admiring eyes of the hundreds of spectators. Miss Anne Williamson of Montreal organized the bathing beauty parade.

STALLS KEPT BUSY
The spacious lawn was fringed with stalls which were thronged with purchasers. Mrs. H. C. V. Macdowall was in charge of the bag stall; Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, assisted by Mrs. L. A. Genge and Mrs. G. D. Ballantyne sold flowers. Mrs. C. D. Neville was popular as head of the "Pantry Shelf." Garden produce and accessories were eagerly sought at the stall under the management of Mrs. P. F. Curtis. Mrs. L. O. Howard was in charge of the baby stall. The tombola conducted by Mrs. John Musgrave produced a handsome sum.

Queues formed at the character-reading and fortune-telling booths. Lady Swettenham, besides giving character readings throughout the afternoon, also presented the Oak Bay Unit with a handsome cheque for the Red Cross. Games and contests were arranged for the pleasure of the visitors, under management of Mrs. G. N. Douglas, while Mr. John Holyroyd was in charge of bingo and other games, which proved popular diversions. Mrs. W. J. Finmore in her picturesque "Piccadilly Kate" role, sold buttonnieres and posies throughout the afternoon, while the Chinese dancing girls sold lavender and the bathing beauties dispensed cigarettes.

TEA ON TERRACE
Tea was served in the upstairs dining-room and on the roof terrace, under the direction of Mrs. S. Remmon. So large was the crowd that supplies ran out, but munity singing will be conducted. Music will be by Ernie Fullerton's orchestra. Sgt. Curly Perullet will act as master of ceremonies. Aid. W. H. Davies, manager of the concert, urges spectators to be present early as a civic picture will be taken at 8.15.

The mouse and canary, with their much faster heartbeats, require an oxygen-carrying pigment in the blood with a rate of chemical reaction that is six times faster than normal hemoglobin.

Weddings

OLDFIELD-DOYLE
Joy Kathleen, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Doyle, Linnet Road, Royal Oak, became the bride Wednesday evening at 7, in St. Alban's Church, of Mr. Richard Clarence Oldfield, second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Oldfield, Norfolk Lodge, Royal Oak. Rev. F. Comley officiated.

A street-length frock of white sheer lace, with wide-brimmed hat, was chosen by the bride for her wedding. She carried a shower bouquet of roses, sweet peas and larkspur. Miss Mirth Doyle attended her sister, frocked in blue flowered sheer, with cream straw hat, navy accessories and carrying a bouquet of carnations. Mr. Toby Oldfield was best man.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, attended by close friends, and young associates of the couple, from the A.Y.P.A. The handsome three-tier wedding cake was made by Miss Lillian Rowland and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Gale. It was surrounded by white tulle, and stood on a table arranged with tiny vases of white carnations and sweet peas.

Following a honeymoon in Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Oldfield will reside at Royal Oak. Going away, the bride donned a turquoise blue topcoat over her wedding ensemble.

I thought Jane's dress was white until...

I saw it next to Ann's Rinso-washed frock

MARIE: Tell me, Ruth! How do you get Ann's dress to look so much whiter than Jane's?
RUTH: Goodness, Marie! I thought everybody knew about Rinso! It gives the whitest wash. And with Rinso you don't have to scrub or boil the clothes.
MARIE: How easy! And clothes washed the Rinso way must wear longer, too!
RUTH: They do! And washable colors stay bright and fresh after scores of washings in Rinso suds.
MARIE: I can't wait to try Rinso!
Dishwashing's easier Rinso's 'Soak-and-Swish' way! Just soak dishes in Rinso's rich suds; then swish them clean in no time. Rinse. Drain 'em, don't dry 'em. Grease is gone—they'll drain without squeaking. And with Rinso your hands don't get red and rough! For extra economy—buy the GIANT box of Rinso.

Union Parties Win Clear Majority In South Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP).—Prime Minister Jan C. Smuts and his war policies won a clear majority in the July 7 general election, still incomplete returns indicated today.

With 109 seats decided out of the total of 150 in the House of Representatives, the coalition government had won 85 against 24 for the various opposition parties which have opposed participation in the war.

Results were delayed for more than three weeks because, first, time was required to gather the soldiers' votes from various theatres of operation, and, secondly, by opposition attempts to have the courts rule many soldier ballots were unacceptable because of alleged irregularities.

Field Marshal Smuts himself was re-elected for Standerton and all members of his cabinet were re-elected.

41 SEATS DOUBTFUL

The 85 seats already won by the government were but two short of the 87 the Smuts coalition held in the last House. And with 41 seats still to be reported, the probability arose that he would have a much more decisive majority in the new House of Representatives than in the old.

In the old house, of 153 seats, Smuts' Union Party held 72 seats and he was supported in his war policies by the Dominion, Labor and Native parties which together held 15 seats.

The opposition had pledged itself if successful to take the Union out of the war and to form a republican type of government with an end to "the British connection."

Its representation in the old House was 66 members, made up of the Nationalist Party, under Opposition Leader Dr. D. F. Malan, the New Order Party, under Oscar Pirow, and the Afrikaaner Party, under N. C. Havenga.

Successful cabinet ministers include:

H. Lawrence, minister of the interior; P. J. V. Vanderbyl, minister of native affairs; J. H. Hofmeyr, finance minister; W. B. Madsley, labor minister; Col. F. C. Stallard, Dominion Party leader and minister of mines, and C. F. Sturrock, minister of railways. All were given substantial majorities.

By PETE SALLAWAY

IF NOTHING else the current big league ball season will go down in history as one for major surprises. Fans had just recovered from the flare-up at Brooklyn, resulting in pitcher Bobo Newson and outfielder Joe Medwick being shipped to other parts, than another outbreak at Philadelphia costs Stanley (Bucky) Harris his job. Adding further to the shock at Freddy Fitzsimmons, who gained pitching fame with New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, takes over Harris' job with the lowly Phillies.

It is hard to understand Harris' dismissal. Reason given was clubhouse friction. Harris is recognized throughout the baseball world as one of the smartest managers in the business. Pitchers, especially, have time and again paid tribute to his ability to handle a club. In addition, several times since the start of the season, Bill Cox, who took over the presidency of the National League club this year, after purchasing the controlling interest, expressed himself highly pleased with Harris as manager.

Fitzsimmons takes over the Phillies with no former experience as a manager. He has spent 18 years in the big time, the greater portion with the Giants. He was traded to the Dodgers six years ago, and the last couple of seasons has done double duty as pitcher and coach. Fitzsimmons was the leading figure in a heart-breaking scene in 1941 world series. Seeking his first world series triumph, pitching for the Dodgers against the New York Yankees, old Fitz handled the Bomber for seven innings only to be struck by the knee by a batted ball and forced from the line-up. The Dodgers were eventually beaten, although Fitz was not charged with the defeat as there was no score at the time. But it robbed him of his last chance to pitch a win in the classic.

There is quite a little fight going on at Hastings Park track between owners, jockeys and the officials over the question of five furlong sprints. Riders took action by delivering a petition to steward Earle Lewis stating they would not ride in the sprints except for two-year-olds. The decision was supposed to be unanimous on the part of the hard boots. The riders claimed there was too much jamming in the scramble to get their mounts in the right spot going into the first turn.

Now the owners of many horses in training are endeavoring to line up sufficient riders to handle the mounts when one of these sprints is scheduled by the association. The owners claim that several jockeys are willing to take a chance over the short distance as they have been in the habit of doing in recent years. There might be some fun yet.

Little Phil Rizzuto, former star shortstop of the New York Yankees, and now in the United States navy, comes up with his all-time star baseball team. For his outfield Rizzuto names Babe Ruth in right, Ty Cobb in center and Tris Speaker in left. Rizzuto named four pitchers as follows: Carl Hubbell, Lefty Gomez, Christy Mathewson and Bobby Feller. Bill Dickey receives the catching job. The infield would consist of Lou Gehrig, first base; Nap Lajoie at second; Horace Wagner at short stop and Red Rolfe on third. Manager, Rizzuto named Joe McCarthy, present leader of the Yankees.

Rowing Trick Recalled

By ALAN HARVEY
TORONTO (CP)—An era in sport when every trick was good if it worked is recalled by Tommy (Hamilton Spectator) Moore's account of the rivalry between Toronto Argos and Toronto Rowing Club.

Years ago, on the eve of a "grudge" match between the clubs, Joe Wright Sr. sent his Argos eight over Toronto Bay in dazzling time. Jim Rice, coaching the Rowing Club, asked Wright not to remove the markers. Wright consented and the next evening Rice's crew shaved 15 seconds off Argos time over the 1½-mile trial course. When the time came to bid for the big bullion, Rowing Club supporters got down everything they had—but Argos won by two lengths. It developed afterwards that an imple Argos' attack had shortened the trial course by 100 yards—under cover of darkness, of course—before Rowing Club took its trial spin.

MATCH RACE

George Irvine, the Vancouver horseman whose fast steeds and immaculate attire stunned Ontario turfites, tells Johnny (Vancouver Province) Park he may stage a match race against time between Palmera T. and Over Drive. Palmera T. won a handicapped at Hamilton and Over Drive cracked a 32-year mark for 5½ furlongs at Woodbine. Irvine says "I think you can name the sprinters in America on five fingers capable of beating the Grey Flash (Over Drive) at six furlongs."

Bringing Home the Bacon

Brooklyn housewives storm Ebbets Field, bringing half-pound tins of waste fat, which, with dime tax, entitled them to see Dodgers smother Pittsburgh Pirates, 23 to 6.

Steal Brooklyn Thunder

Phillies On Strike

Before the whole thing gets out of hand, this is a plea to William D. (I used to play for Yale) Cox and his phoolish Phillies to please leave Brooklyn with its Brooklyn accent.

The way things have been going lately, what with the Dodgers dumped into third place in the National League Wednesday, it might be just a little too much if the Phils should suddenly blossom out in the fanciest flatbush-ese, complete with "dese" and "dem," to say nothing of leav us go see gottie from green-pernt.

Yet, what with one thing and another recently, you'd hardly be surprised if something like that came off. First there was the series of player deals cooked up early this year by William and Branch Rickey. Then the Phils fired Bucky Harris and took their new manager, Flatbush's own Freddie (Fat and $2 today) Fitzsimmons, from the Dodgers.

And Wednesday night, the Phils gave it the final humiliating touch by borrowing the bums' idea of a player strike, a stunt that took the play practically completely away from baseball's war relief day which saw eight games produce an estimated $199,733.55, along with an appearance of Babe Ruth as manager and pinch-hitter.

The resemblance between the Brooklyn rebellion of a couple of weeks ago and the Phils' uprising in St. Louis was only about the same as that between a hot dog and a sirlion steak. The Dodgers howled over something their manager, Leo Durocher, had done. The Phils—24 of 'em—signed a petition that they would strike unless Cox reinstated Harris as manager and gave him a chance to resign.

Faced with a walkout of practically all his able-bodied hired hands, Cox apologized to Harris before the entire club for "an unfortunate incident." He told Bucky the dismissal "is not intended to reflect in any way on your ability as a baseball manager"—which left you wondering just what Bucky was fired for.

Anyway, his apology apparently satisfied one and all, because the Phils went out and made Fitzsimmons' debut as manager a merry one by clouting the Cardinals 6 to 4 to snap St. Louis' winning streak at 11 and climb back into sixth place themselves.

The standings in both leagues generally got a tossing around. Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into second place by knocking off New York Giants 8 to 3. The Bums were clubbed twice by Chicago,

They'll Do It Every Time

American Hockey League Operates With Six Teams

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—President Maurice Podoloff announced Wednesday that the American Hockey League would operate this year with at least six clubs and possibly seven.

Back from a league meeting held in Atlantic City, N.J., Podoloff said the 1943 campaign would get under way Nov. 3, with Buffalo, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Providence and Washington as starters.

Whether Hershey, Pa., a league member last year, will operate this year, Podoloff said, will depend on the gasoline rationing situation.

Swimmers Meet

All local swimmers interested in attending the Kelowna regatta August 4 and 5 will meet at the Y.M.C.A. tonight in Archie McKinnon's office.

The party expects to leave Victoria Sunday afternoon, returning the following weekend. The meeting has been called by George Morgan, president of the "Y" swimming club for '7.

Bill Dale Scores

EDMONTON (CP)—AC2 Bill Dale, Victoria speedster, led individual point-scorers in the inter-squadron track and field meet of No. 3 Manning Depot here Wednesday night.

Formerly captain of the Washington State College track team and three-times Pacific Coast Conference half-mile titleholder, Dale won the 880-yard event in 2:18.25 and the 220-yard event in 24.45 seconds. He won both events with ease.

The meet was staged at exhibition grounds and drew more than 75 contestants.

MORE NIGHT BASEBALL

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds Wednesday scheduled seven additional night games to bring their total to the 14 permitted by National League rules.

The changes were made as a result of a poll of fans to determine favored game starting times. The new dates and opponents: Aug. 27, St. Louis; Aug. 31, Chicago; Sept. 10, Pittsburgh (twilight - night doubleheader); Sept. 23, New York; Sept. 25, Boston; Sept. 29, Philadelphia; Oct. 1, Brooklyn.

R.A.F. WIN CRICKET

With one wicket to spare R.A.F. defeated Spencers 100 to 99 in Wednesday afternoon's cricket match. Putting on 42 runs Hall was top bat for the Flyers, while Oakman paced Spencers with 36.

Suggests Harris Fired Because He Kept Cox in Place

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—First reaction here to the Brooklyn Dodgers' announcement that the Phils had a new manager was that it supported the rumors rampant in Philadelphia that Branch Rickey really is the guy behind the Phils.

We figure it just the other way—though Rickey and Bill Cox might find it easier to have a special phone for their conversations. We can't see a man with as much baseball wisdom as Rickey firing a good manager for no other apparent reason than he insisted on doing the managing himself and keep the owner in his place.

The only change necessary to get the Empire City racetrack ready for the harness meeting that starts this evening was nailing a strip of boards on the inner rail as a hub rail. Empire originally was a harness track but the trotters haven't performed there since 1915.

Latest tip is to watch out for Rochester University, come football season. They've got 74 lettermen from other colleges, including Temple, Syracuse and Fordham, among the navy and marine trainers—also a Sept. 18 spot on the Yale schedule.

The latest Ring magazine checkup shows 3,097 professional boxers in the United States armed forces as of July 20—and Chalky Wright was the 33rd champion, past or present, to don a uniform.

Pat Bay Flyers Win

R.C.A.F. Flyers, from Pat Bay, kept their undefeated record in box lacrosse this season unblemished Wednesday night as they turned back a squad of all-stars 20 to 11 at Stevenson Park.

Taking a 3 to 1 margin at the end of the first quarter and extending their lead to 11 to 3 at halftime, the Flyers were never seriously threatened.

Arnold Ferguson and Norman Baker paced the Flyers in scoring, each with four goals. O'charlick and Featherstone each contributed three counters for the all-stars.

In a preliminary game Bays defeated Oaklands 11 to 4.

Tonight at 7 at Stevenson Park Douglas Tire will oppose Yarrows.

BURRARDS WIN BOXLA

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards scored a close 14 to 12 victory over Vancouver army Wednesday night to gain a tie with New Westminster Salmonbellies for first place in the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League.

Johnny Cavallin was top man for Burrards with five goals and Hank Harrison and Gordy Carroll got three apiece for the soldiers.

A.R.P. Post Wardens In Realistic Test

Amid smoke and fire and the sound of exploding bombs and anti-aircraft fire, wardens of Dalhousie Post, Oak Bay North, went through a successful air raid work-out Wednesday night.

The test, which began at 8:30, lasted half an hour. Wardens rescued casualties from a smoke-filled building and fought fires with stirrup pumps.

The fire fighting test took place in an open field and was planned so the stirrup pump crews could not cope with the numerous fires. As the blazes got out of hand the auxiliary fire department, directed by Chief E. G. Clayards of the Oak Bay fire department, was called in to complete the job.

Present at the test were Reeve W. L. Woodhouse and members of the Oak Bay council. The test was conducted by George Murdoch, post warden.

Army Defeats Navy Nine 5-3

First Inning Rally Gives Troops Win

Four-run outburst to open play swept Army to a thrilling 5 to 3 triumph over the Navy in Wednesday night's baseball game, played before close to 1,700 fans. Defeat knocked the Bluejackets out of their first place tie with the Victoria Machinery Depot.

With the playoffs little over a week away the league standing follows:

|          | P. | W. | L. | Pct. |
|----------|----|----|----|------|
| V.M.D.   | 21 | 15 | 6  | .714 |
| Navy     | 23 | 16 | 7  | .696 |
| Army     | 22 | 14 | 8  | .636 |
| R.C.A.F. | 20 | 8  | 12 | .400 |
| Eagles   | 22 | 1  | 21 | .045 |

The V.M.D. are in a good position to finish on top as they have three games to play while the Navy have one and the Army two.

Jerry Whitney, clever Army righthander, was the winning pitcher, although he went to the showers after five innings with a sore flipper. During his stay on the mound Whitney looked good, giving up five hits, no runs and striking out a pair. Lefty Medansky, smooth-working southpaw, took over from Whitney and managed to keep his club in front although in trouble several times. Medansky gave up four hits and three runs while he struck out three.

Jimmy Dumeah was on the losing side of the ledger in the pitching records. After being touched up for four runs in the first inning, Dumeah held the troops to one more run, although he was hit hard all night. Dumeah gave up 12 hits, struck out four and walked three.

Army's heavy hitters lost no time pushing runs across the plate with their first inning spree. With one away, Cousins drew a life at first on short-stop Coys' error. Casey worked out the count and got a walk. Nick Metz lined a single between first and second, scoring Cousins and sending Casey to third.

Metz promptly stole second and both runners crossed the plate on Peden's hot smash over second. Peden went to second on the throw to the plate. After Sawchuk popped to Coys, Reigner singled down the left field line scoring Peden for the fourth run.

PULL DOUBLE PLAY

Navy first threatened in the fifth but the Army cut the rally short with a clever double play. Casey to Reigner to Peden, Army got their fifth run in the seventh when Cousins, singled, Casey bulged the wire on top of the centre field wall for two bases and Metz flied deep to left field, Cousins coming home after the catch.

Last of the seventh saw the Bluejackets put a pair of runs on the scoreboard. Weigand was given free passage to first and sacrificed to by Coys. McDowall's single to right field scored Weigand, the batter trotting down to second on a futile throw to the plate. Dumeah followed with another single to the same spot, sending McDowall across the rubber.

Navy lost their big chance to pull the game out of the fire in the eighth when they loaded the bases with nobody out. Bruce singled to centre field and went to second when Cousins fumbled the ball. Walker was hit by a pitched ball and Van Hatten walked. Catcher Sawchuk relieved some of the pressure by picking off Van Hatten with a fast throw to first. Medansky settled down and calmly struck out Weigand and Coys.

Last of the ninth saw the Navy push home their final run. McDowall opened the inning with a double into left field. Dumeah lifted to Peden. Dietrich was safe on Metz's bad throw to first. Thompson forced Dietrich at second, as McDowall scored, and Bruce popped to Reigner to end the game.

With three for five, Cousins, Army centre fielder, paced the hitters.

Short score follows:
R. H. E.
Army ..... 5 12 4
Navy ..... 3 9 1
Batteries: Whitney, Medansky and Sawchuk; Dumeah and McDowall.

'We Must Carry On,' Says Lord Halifax

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the U.S., said in an interview here that though the collapse of Italy's Mussolini was good news, "we must be careful not to underestimate the formidable nature of the task remaining."

He said the "Italian people have a perfectly clear choice after Mr. Churchill's speech. It is now up to them. Meanwhile we must carry on."

Warning against underestimating the Allied task, Lord Halifax said:

"Mr. Churchill pointed out the small proportion of Italian strength, compared with the German strength. The current news is very good for morale—I hope we have much more of it—but we must bear in mind the task still before us."

"Some people hear good news on Sunday and expect the war to be over the following Saturday. Unfortunately it isn't."

Lord Halifax, who arrived here aboard a naval yacht, was taken for a drive through the city with Mayor Cornett.

Tonight the Halifax party will visit Nelson and from there cross to the United States for a two-day stay in Spokane.

Mussolini Guarded On 60th Birthday

BERNE (AP)—Benito Mussolini, the man who always wanted to live dangerously, marked his 60th birthday today apparently a prisoner of the sovereign he dominated for 20 years.

There was no celebration of the event in Italy.

Mussolini's whereabouts are still a mystery. He has variously been reported a fugitive in Spain, a prisoner somewhere in northern Italy, in a villa near Rome or in Rome itself.

(Madrid heard Wednesday that he had been transferred for his own safety from a villa near Rome to the royal villa at Viareggio on the Gulf of Genoa. The villa is south of the northern chain of the Apennines and the Po valley which may become the German defence line. Mussolini was said to be under guard of regular army troops responsible directly to Marshal Badoglio.)

The Corriere Della Sera of Milan was one Italian newspaper that took cognizance of the occasion. It termed the man who strove to emulate Caesar an "aged corrupter," and added that in the minds of the Italian people today he was as good as buried.

Applies to Operate Mobile Cafe in City

Request to operate a mobile restaurant on Victoria streets was heard today at the City Council health and welfare committee meeting. The committee took no action on the application.

H. S. Pringle presented the case for Chris Collias who wished to operate a light lunch bar in downtown Victoria.

Ald. P. E. George, chairman of the committee, announced that the City Council would inspect Chinatown next Thursday at 9 in the morning. The council had previously instructed Ald. George to call a meeting for this inspection of Chinese housing conditions.

Arrangements are being made whereby representatives of the Chinese will be asked to meet with the health committee, the acting city health officer, and Dr. Frederick Klinead, unit medical director of tuberculosis control, Provincial Board of Health, to discuss ways of combating tuberculosis among Chinese.

Two resolutions, intended to be forwarded to the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, were adopted by the committee.

The first calls for removal from insanitary premises of persons, diseased, aged, or incapacitated. The resolution suggested that the medical health officer be permitted to apply to a police magistrate or two justices of the peace for an order for the removal of such a person to a hospital or nursing home.

The second resolution asks amendment of the Residence and Responsibility Act for persons in the forces fixing their place of residence at the point where they enlisted.

The committee will recommend to the council a $15 a month salary increase for Miss E. Patterson, nurse-secretary, and a $5 a month raise for W. E. Farmer Sr., milk inspector.

Control New Fires

Two new fires broke out on Little Saanich Mountain Wednesday afternoon, and with the other blazes which started Tuesday burned over half the mountain slope, but Saanich firemen reported early this afternoon all fires in the municipality under control.

It is estimated the fires Wednesday burned more than 30 acres. The larger of the two fires

Teacher Testifies Principal Favors Pupils Over Staff

Instances wherein she stated Dr. J. M. Thomas, principal of Mount View High School, had not backed up his staff in matters of discipline, were described by Miss Grace Higham, Mount View teacher, at the public inquiry into Saanich school administration, which continued today at County Court House.

Miss Higham, who has been on the staff of the school for eight years, was the first teacher called by M. B. Jackson, K.C., counsel for the commission, and succeeded Reeve E. C. Warren, who was cross-examined for one hour by H. A. Beckwith, counsel for Dr. Thomas.

"Have you found conditions satisfactory in regard to discipline at the school?" Mr. Jackson asked Miss Higham, who said that several times she had been at the point of asking for a transfer.

"I have not found conditions satisfactory. General discipline of the school as a whole under the principal has been poor; the principal has not backed up his staff in matters of discipline," she replied.

She spoke of pupils seemingly "being put above the staff" and gave one instance wherein she stated the possibility of pupils raising objection to a point appeared to be the most important factor in determining the principal's attitude in the particular instance. Dr. Thomas, she said, had not always been courteous to her before the class; had not been careful to make criticism out of the hearing of the students and had reminded her of things she should have done before the pupils.

Nigel Bruce's Wife Meets Daughter Here

A Hollywood visitor today is Mrs. Nigel Bruce, wife of Actor Nigel Bruce. Mrs. Bruce came to see her daughter, A. W. I. Pauline Bruce, who is stationed with the women's division of the R.C.A.F. on the coast and is thrilled with her experience, spending all possible leave granted with her mother.

"My husband was just dying to come, too, but he is working on a picture for Paramount and was unable to get away," said Mrs. Bruce.

Nigel Bruce is under contract to Universal, but has been loaned to Paramount for the production of "Frenchman's Creek," by Daphne du Maurier.

An actress herself, Mrs. Bruce recalled today that she visited Victoria 23 years ago with H. A. Esmond and Eva Moore in the stage play, "Eliza Comes to Stay," which was presented at that time in the old Victoria Theatre.

Her stage name then was Violet Campbell.

"I met my husband on the station platform in London when the 'Eliza Comes to Stay' company was leaving for Canada and the United States," she said.

The Bruces have another daughter, Jennifer, 19, in Hollywood. Pauline, who is 20, was in dramatic school when she decided last April to join the R.C.A.F. She was stationed for a time at Ottawa and came on here from the capital.

Ex-Stunt Expert

Now Movie Maker

Paul Malvern, Universal's associate producer, for "The Great Impersonation," currently featuring Ralph Bellamy, Evelyn Ankers and Kaaren Verne at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, got his Hollywood start two decades ago as a double for Mary Pickford.

He was a stuntman for many of the most daring feats executed in the early films.

Malvern has since been identified with many famous of movie production. He considers "The Great Impersonation" one of his most entertaining efforts. The story, adapted to the screen from the famous E. Phillips Oppenheim thriller, has a timely theme and its dual role characterization by Ralph Bellamy is regarded one of the season's outstanding cinema highlights.

ATLAS THEATRE

Says Department

At Low Standard

At Saanich School

Belief that the department standard of pupils at Mount View High School was very low because there was so much destruction going on there, was expressed by Martin Dawson, former trustee of the Saanich School Board, who took the stand to give evidence Wednesday afternoon, at the public inquiry into Saanich school administration, at County Court House.

Mr. Dawson corroborated testimony given earlier by R. D. Shanks, also a former Saanich school trustee, and related events which took place following the appointment of Dr. Morris J. Thomas to the post of principal at Mount View in September, 1939. The appointment was not confirmed until May, 1940.

"For about six months after Dr. Thomas came conditions were improved considerably," he stated but added that a visit a year later found the school in "a deplorable condition."

Of his various visits to the school, on which he said nearly $4,000 had been spent on redecoration, Mr. Dawson reported that he found classroom doors broken, some pulled right off hinges; $18 stops put on the main entrance doors "off in two months' time"; pedal on the auditorium piano broken; a renovated tennis court in such a condition it had to be closed and window blinds in a dilapidated state.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS

On the question of the placing of substitute teachers at Mount View, Mr. Dawson claimed that Dr. Thomas obtained substitutes on his own, without applying to the board. He declared that for nearly two years after his appointment Dr. Thomas was refused nothing by the school board.

Former Trustee Shanks, in continuing his testimony from the morning session, told the inquiry at which Judge J. O. Wilson is presiding, that the amount of mimeograph supplies being used at Mount View, was out of all proportion to the amount that should have been used and charged that the supplies were being used for other than school purposes. Mr. Shanks was giving evidence of his period as school trustee.

"Rarely a month went by when Dr. Thomas was not invited to a board meeting to explain certain troublesome conditions that had arisen at the school," he said. When asked how he thought children should behave at school, Mr. Shanks replied that they should "walk around the school like ladies and gentlemen."

Reeve E. C. Warren told the inquiry that after one inspection

S. P. Eagle, "Tales of Manhattan"

is now at the York Theatre, with a dream cast of more than a score of topflight stars.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Mickey Rooney has revealed a new talent.

Although he already is noted for his ability at golf, tennis and swimming, it wasn't known that he could run the low hurdles. It was planned to use a double for the young star in scenes of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Human Comedy," in which he runs a hurdle race. The picture currently at the Capitol Theatre.

Mickey insisted running the race himself. The distance was 200 yards, 20 yards short of the usual 220-yard route.

Actor Robert Young

Runs Ranch School

Its Prof. Robert Young now. The actor has opened a school at his ranch home in Tarzana in San Fernando Valley for his own and youngsters of the neighborhood.

Swimming, first aid, dancing, and physical education classes are being conducted by the screen star and his wife, Betty. More than 20 youngsters are regularly attending the school.

When the actor went to M-G-M for his role in "Journey for Margaret," now at the Capitol Theatre, a college-trained instructor took over.

Penny Singleton ostensibly does the bandaging, and Jonathan Hale also becomes her "victim-patient."

Produced by Boris Morros and of Mount View, Dr. Thomas was told by the school board that the board "could not tolerate" such conditions. In reference to a school cadet corps, Mr. Warren stated that when the matter came up while he was on the board, the board did not favor the formation of corp because members felt that children got enough war from press and radio and wanted to "keep war from the young people as long as possible."

He touched also on the subject of the playing of Canadian football on school grounds which was forbidden by the board because they felt it too dangerous for the boys to play. Some time after the board order was given, a Saanich boy died from injuries received while playing Canadian football and the board felt justified in refusing to allow the game to be played at Mount View, he said.

R.A.F. Fighters Strafe Enemy Ships

CAIRO (AP)—R.A.F. fighter planes damaged two enemy merchant vessels Wednesday in patrols over the Aegean Sea, leaving one burning and the other riddled with cannon fire, a Middle East air communiqué announced today.

The announcement also said R.A.F. aircraft had sunk three enemy schooners and damaged two others in the Ionian Sea Tuesday.

All planes returned from the sweeps, the communiqué added.

Reeve's Son Drowns

BONNYVILLE, Alta. (CP)—Raymond Dargis, 24-year-old son of Albert Dargis, reeve of Bonnyville municipality, was drowned Wednesday in Muriel Lake, seven miles south of here.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"You've been out with a soldier, sailor or marine every night this week—why don't you skip a night and let the armed forces get a little rest?"

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am engaged to a very fine young man who has only one defect. He has an ungovernable temper and gets angry enough over a trifle to strike me. Do you think that it is jealousy that makes him behave so, and that after we are married and he is sure of me he will change? I love him, but I am afraid.

JOAN.

NO PEACE WITH BAD-TEMPERED MAN

Answer: You do well to be afraid, Joan, of a man with an ungovernable temper, and you will be lucky if you are so afraid of a future with him that you pass it up.

For of all faults that a man can have, none is worse than for him to be bad-tempered, and if he goes into rages now in which he strikes you, after marriage he will beat you up whenever his black devil drives him into working off his fury on some defenseless object.

Don't delude yourself into thinking that, after marriage, when he is sure of you, his jealousy will be appeased. The very essence of jealousy is suspicion. It never trusts anybody or anything—it feeds upon its own evil imagination, and believes the worst of everybody and everything.

The thing that a wife's happiness depends upon is her husband's disposition. It is what she has to live with every day of the year, and there is no peace or joy in life for her if she has to go in trembling fear lest she do or say something that will send her husband into a rage and cause him to hurl insults and abuses at her.

Don't marry a high-tempered man, and if you have a grain of sense in your head don't marry a cowardly bully who has already shown you that he is a woman-beater. If you do, you deserve exactly what you will get.

OSHAW, Ont. (CP)—Relatives of six Oshawa soldiers captured at Hongkong by the Japanese have been advised of their transfer from prison camps at Hongkong to enclosures in Japan proper. Word of the transfers was received from the National Defence Department through the International Red Cross committee at Geneva, Switzerland. No reason was given for the transfer.

"Smoking Mountain" Ranks Fifth Among North American Peaks

Can you name the five highest mountain peaks in North America? If you can, you can do more than most persons.

Mt. McKinley, to be sure, is the highest of all. Located in Alaska, it rises to a height of close to four miles. Next is Mt. Logan in Canada.

The other three peaks are less widely known. They are St. Elias, in Alaska, and Orizaba and Popocatepetl in Mexico.

Of all five of those peaks, Popocatepetl is most interesting in some ways. It holds the crater of a volcano, and the volcano may be called "asleep but not dead."

The name of this peak was given to it by Aztec Indians. It means "Smoking Mountain." The volcano gives off a great deal of smoke, or vapor, which looks like Many persons call the peak "Old Popo." The Aztecs have a legend that it is a god. When he is angry, he trembles, making an earthquake or sending out a flood of lava.

Old Popo has had 10 important eruptions since Cortez and his Spanish soldiers invaded Mexico four centuries ago. The last of these took place in 1921. Since then the volcano has done little more than "grumble," though there was a small eruption in 1921. The crater has hundreds of little holes from which sulphur vapor rise.

Some of the soldiers of Cortez climbed the Smoking Mountain. They brought down ice to show their friends.

Old Popo rises three and a half miles above sea level. It has a crater about half a mile wide, and about 1,000 feet deep.

There is snow around the rim of the crater all through the year. Patches of snow also exist inside the crater, but a visitor may see large fields of sulphur there.

The depth of the sulphur bed has been estimated at about 1,000 feet. Millions of tons of sulphur have been taken out by Indian workers. If the world's stock of sulphur, this crater bed could provide enough to last many years.

Near Old Popo is another mountain peak known as the "White Woman." Aztec legend says that the White Woman is the wife of the god, Popocatepetl.

Letters to Editor

THE OLD WAR

In all this talk of peace, we wonder how many realize "peace" is a way of life?

Only when we see and know this war today is a war that has been going on from time immemorial and will continue to go on—as far as one can fathom—forever, but in a different form, the war against selfishness.

We forget that it is not actually nation to nation we face, but "human nature"—our own—we face.

We look for a scapegoat and we find such in this one or that one, this people or that people, when all the time the real scapegoat is the human species—the arch traitor of all time—man against himself!

ALAN GREIG.
993 Southgate St., July 25.

COMPULSORY VOTING

It was resolved by the Provincial Council that the provincial government be requested to study some means whereby it shall be compulsory on all persons entitled to vote at municipal elections to cast their ballots and to provide penalties for failing to do so. "Apathy of the public gave rise to dictators in Europe," Reeve E. C. Warren states.

Apathy of the council has been the cause of voters being indifferent as to whether they should cast their ballots. The above resolution sounds like dictatorship.

Requests have been made to the council to provide more polling booths instead of one in each ward, but no action has been taken. Some of the ratepayers would like to vote, but owing to advanced years cannot walk 3 or 4 miles to do so. As an example, Ward 7 could have Tillamook School, St. Martin's Church, and Erskine schoolroom or Mount View High. Do not forget this is in December not July. Also if the ward system was abolished, and which we all realize is antiquated, it would be another incentive to vote on the council as a whole. But the council has refused to put a plebiscite before the ratepayers on abolishing the ward system. What are they afraid of?

Centralizing our works department would mean a cheaper and greater efficiency. If you ratepayers have still got interest in your municipality and wish to improve the present conditions, sign the petition the ratepayers' association are circulating to compel the council to hold a plebiscite to abolish the ward system. We have had a lot of publicity in the press regarding conditions in the high schools, our septic tanks and stinking ditches, the bad condition of the roads, especially Ward 7. But Wilfred Green says we are making good progress, so there you are.

Also, according to the municipal clerk's report, we now have a property assessment of over $15,000,000 and an annual business of over $1,000,000 and still with a surplus we have an increase in taxes. You voters have been lackadaisical long enough; let us get some real business men in the council. You can then say with pride Saanich means the "Land of plenty" and really is the "Garden of Vancouver Island."

SACRED INSTITUTIONS

Allow me to write a few lines that may give comfort to those who are disturbed by the bombing and destruction of "sacred institutions."

In the first place what valid reason exists for calling an institution sacred? That is a question which should be well pondered and answered on the basis of, "by their fruits ye shall know them."

In Holy Russia, prior to 1917, sacred institutions known as Christian churches, filled with relics, mysterious ceremonies, soothing music and "dim religious light," held the mass mind in a state of fear and awe, playing a major part in its enslavement to the czars and the ruthless landlords.

Today those institutions which tolerated no remedy except blind faith and prayer, for the advancement and enlightenment of the Russian peasants, are no longer regarded sacred. However, in spite of what eminent churchmen have told us, Russia has more faith today than before; faith in the common man through the proper application of knowledge and science to do what blind faith failed to do, viz: rid their country of race hatred, poverty, ignorance, unemployment and inequality of opportunity.

Observe how Russia, "clothed in her new faith," prevails against and drives her book-burning enemies, whose scientists flee the land, and who would lead the world back to the "dark ages" and the middle ages.

Let those who grieve at the loss of their sacred relics remember that: "God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform," and that "all things work together for good."

Sidney, B.C.

4 Island Fliers In Casualty List

Four Vancouver Island men are included in the R.C.A.F.'s 639th casualty list of the war, which contained 23 names. Three of the total were killed on active service overseas and three missing after air operations; seven previously reported missing are now reported prisoners of war in Germany, while four men previously reported missing are now presumed dead.

P.O. J. W. Fraser of Port Alberni, who was reported missing some time ago, is now reported as a prisoner of war. He was mentioned in a Canadian Press story as an air bomber in one of the big raids on the Ruhr Valley in March, 1943.

P.O. Richard Forrest Bradbury of 1439 Mitchell Street, Victoria, previously reported missing, is now presumed dead.

P.O. Patrick Hertslet, whose wife lives at The Chalet, Deep Cove, and Sgt. J. E. C. Rogers of Campbell River are reported seriously injured on active service.

140,000 Soldiers May Vote By Proxy

TORONTO—Members of the armed forces from Ontario on service outside the province will cast their votes in the provincial election Aug. 4 by proxy—designating a relative or friend in their home constituencies to mark their ballots.

While no definite figures are available, it is estimated that there are 60,000 to 80,000 men and women overseas and another 50,000 to 60,000 in camps in Canada outside Ontario who are eligible to vote by proxy.

Although this is the first time in Canadian history that the proxy system is being used to record the "soldier" vote, proxies are not new in Ontario voting, this system having been used previously in taking the votes of merchant seamen.

Proxies will not be used by men and women on active service in Ontario. They will vote in the camps where they are stationed and camp returning officers will telephone, or telegraph returns to the constituencies concerned after the close of the polls on election night.

RESERVES IN CAMP

Members of the reserve army who will be in camp on election day will vote at advance polls before going to camp—unless they leave for their training before the official nomination day, July 28. Major Alex Lewis, chief election officer for the province, said recently that members of reserve units in Military District No. 3, with headquarters at Kingston, who leave for camp July 25 will not have an opportunity to vote. Those in Military District No. 1 (western Ontario) and No. 2 (central and northern Ontario) will vote in advance polls on July 31.

Provision for the proxy vote for service voters outside Ontario was made in an act passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1942. The province sent overseas 125,000 proxy forms which were distributed to service personnel in Britain by G. H. Ward, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London.

The service voter indicates on the proxy who he wishes to cast his ballot although there is no provision for indicating what party or candidate he favors. Election officials have said this may be done by separate letter.

Eligible to vote by proxy are servicemen who have resided in Canada for 30 days prior to enlistment. Their proxies must be used in the constituency in which they resided before enlistment.

The proxies are sent direct to the person—relative or friend—named as a voter. Soldiers, airmen and sailors were urged to name relatives as their proxies as a friend can only vote on one proxy while relatives may vote on several.

Before casting the vote, the proxy-holder must have the proxy validated by an election board. Sitings will be held until July 24 for validation of proxies with further special sittings as late as Aug. 3, on day before the election.

RETURNING PROXIES

Major Lewis says he has no information on how many proxy forms have been returned to Canada. Arrangements were made to fly them back by bomber.

Lt-Col. George A. Drew, Progressive-Conservative leader, has charged that the proxies are not coming back.

In the Dominion general elections in the First Great War and present war, the overseas vote was taken directly with ballot boxes shipped overseas. In the British Columbia general election in 1941 a similar procedure was followed. In other elections since the war started servicemen posted outside the province had no vote.

Eye examinations show that about one in every four working persons in their twenties have visual defects; at 40 approximately 50 per cent of all workers have defective vision.

Horse meat for human consumption is now regulated by law in six states: Maine, Arizona, Indiana, New York, Michigan and California.

JUST FOLKS!

The men and women who are the Victoria Machinery Depot...

those who are working night and day, rain or shine to hasten the day of Victory...are just folks like you and me.

Many of them have given up easier tasks or sacrificed some of their comforts to do this job.

Each, from the humblest passer boy to the highest official, is doing his best, just as other loyal Victoria citizens are doing theirs, for Britain's cause.
